

RUSSIAN STUDENTS URGE ATTACKS ON JAILS, WITH DYNAMITE AND BOMBS, TO FREE PRISONERS

ST. PETERSBURG, OCTOBER 31.—THE FOLLOWING IS A SAMPLE OF THE INFLAMMATORY SPEECHES BEING DELIVERED TO FRENZIED PEOPLE THROUGHOUT THIS CITY TODAY BY THE STUDENTS:

"YOU MUST GO TO THE PRISONS AND LIBERATE YOUR COMRADES. GO ARMED WITH REVOLVERS, DYNAMITE AND BOMBS. TREPOFF IS STILL IN POWER. OUR WATCHWORD MUST BE THAT ALL THE TROOPS MUST BE WITHDRAWN FROM ST. PETERSBURG AND LEAVE THE CAPITAL IN OUR POSSESSION. THAT BLOODY SCOUNDREL, TREPOFF, MUST BE DRIVEN OUT OF RUSSIA. THE DOORS OF THE BASTILE AND OF THE FORTRESSES MUST BE OPENED AND A NATIONAL GUARD MUST BE CREATED FOR THE PROTECTION OF OUR LIBERTIES. IT WOULD BE FATAL TO STOP NOW. THE EMPEROR HAS YIELDED BECAUSE HE IS NOT SURE OF THE ARMY, WHICH, BROTHERS, IS WITH US. THEIR SWORDS ARE ON OUR SIDE. HURRAH FOR LIBERTY! HURRAH FOR SOCIALISM!"

COUNTER DEMONSTRATIONS TOOK PLACE ON THE PALACE SQUARE, WHERE SEVERAL THOUSANDS OF PEOPLE BEARING WHITE FLAGS KNELT ON THE COBBLESTONES AND SANG "GOD SAVE THE EMPEROR," AND PRAYED FOR THE EMPEROR. ALTHOUGH ADMITTING THAT THERE IS SOME DANGER IN THE UNCONTROLLED EXUBERANCE OF THE PEOPLE, THE AUTHORITIES HAVE DECIDED TO GIVE IT THE FREEST REIN POSSIBLE, AND ONLY TO INTERFERE IF PUBLIC SAFETY IS THREATENED. THE OLD RUSSIANS, WHO UNDERSTAND THE TEMPER OF THE PEOPLE, SAY IF THE MANIFESTO CAN AROUSE SUCH MANIFESTATION IN COSMOPOLITAN, INDIFFERENT ST. PETERSBURG, THE PEOPLE WILL GO MAD IN THE PROVINCES, AND THERE MAY BE A REPETITION OF THE SCENES AT THE CORONATION, WHICH OCCASIONED GREAT DISASTER.

GENERAL TREPOFF, SPEAKING OF THE CORRESPONDENT OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS ABOUT THE EFFECT OF THE MANIFESTO, SAID: "IT IS NECESSARY TO WAIT THE DEVELOPMENTS OF THE FEW DAYS DURING WHICH UNDOUBTEDLY THERE WILL BE GREAT DEMONSTRATIONS ALL OVER THE COUNTRY. I BELIEVE THESE WILL BE FOLLOWED BY A PERIOD OF TRANQUILITY, AS I FEEL CERTAIN THE REVOLUTIONISTS WHO WOULD NOT BE CONTENT WITH ANYTHING WILL BE UNABLE TO CONTINUE THE AGITATION EFFECTIVELY."

EMMONS SENTENCED TO SAN QUENTIN

FIVE YEARS IN STRIPES

Condicted Boodler Makes Impassioned Plea For Mercy to the Court.

SACRAMENTO, October 31.—Judge E. C. Hart, in the Superior Court this morning, refused to grant the motion for a new trial in the case of ex-Senator E. J. Emmons of Kern, and sentenced the defendant to a five years' term in San Quentin State prison.

His counsel, Grove L. Johnson, immediately gave notice of appeal to the higher court, and requested that his client be admitted to bail in the sum of $10,000, an amount which he stated his client would have no difficulty in procuring in his own home.

EMMONS ADDRESSES THE COURT.

Prior to pronouncing sentence, Emmons addressed the court in his own behalf and made an impassioned plea for leniency, during which he said that he had followed the profession of the law since 1882 and that this sentence would forever debar him from following the law as a means of livelihood.

PRISONER A PHYSICAL WRECK.

He said that he was a physical, almost a mental wreck, and unable to stand the hard work entailed on prisoners at Folsom and he requested that he be sent to San Quentin.

He said that he had a devoted wife and two children, and when he had served his sentence he would be obliged to start afresh in life at some other vocation than the law. He asked that the sentence imposed be as light as possible, so that he might learn some other means of supporting his family after his release before old age overtook him.

COURT SYMPATHIZES WITH WIFE.

Judge Hart, in pronouncing sentence, said that he saw no reason why he should impose any more severe sentence than he had in the case of ex-Senator Bunkers, nor any reason why he should impose any lighter one.

He said that he sincerely sympathized with Mrs. Emmons and her little ones, as did all of the good people of the State, and in consequence he would impose a sentence of five years in San Quentin prison.

BAIL IS PLACED AT $10,000.

Attorney Johnson then requested that his client be admitted to bail in the sum of $10,000 pending an appeal to the higher court, and that such a bail bond be immediately prepared.

He said Emmons desired to go to Bakersfield to make arrangements for the future of Mrs. Emmons and the children, who were penniless.

It was agreed that the form of bond should be drafted as soon as possible.

APPOINTED DEPUTY DISTRICT ATTORNEY

Hugh S. Goodfellow is Chosen to Fill Vacancy Caused by Promotion of T. W. Harris.

Attorney Hugh S. Goodfellow has landed in the place in the District Attorney's office made vacant by the appointment of Deputy District Attorney T. W. Harris to a place on the bench in the Superior Court of this county.

Mr. Goodfellow is the son of Attorney W. S. Goodfellow, one of the leading members of the San Francisco bar, whose home, however, is in this city. The new appointee has been connected with the District Attorney's office for some time past for the purpose of gaining experience in criminal practice.

In making the appointment District Attorney Allen said that while sorry to lose Harris, he was glad on his account, and that the work done by Mr. Goodfellow had been very satisfactory.

BANK OFFICIAL IS A SUICIDE

PITTSBURG, October 31.—The inquest into the death of T. Lee Clark, cashier of the Enterprise National Bank of Lehigh, which was adjourned yesterday on account of the illness of Mrs. Clark, widow of the dead cashier, who is regarded as the principal witness, was resumed today. It had been believed

FORMER GOVERNOR DIES.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Oct. 31.—Ex-Governor Andrew R. McGill died today of heart disease, aged 65 years.

EX-SENATOR E. J. EMMONS, sentenced this morning to serve five years at San Quentin.

BEFORE A SENTENCE OF FIVE YEARS IN SAN QUENTIN WAS IMPOSED UPON HIM, EMMONS MADE AN IMPASSIONED PLEA FOR LENIENCY, DURING WHICH HE SAID HE WAS A PHYSICAL, ALMOST A MENTAL WRECK, AND UNABLE TO STAND THE HARD WORK DEALT OUT TO THE PRISONERS AT FOLSOM, HENCE HE REQUESTED THAT HE BE SENT TO SAN QUENTIN.

HE SAID THAT WHEN HE HAD SERVED HIS TIME HE WOULD START OUT AFRESH IN LIFE IN SOME OTHER VOCATION.

WHEN JUDGE HART PRONOUNCED SENTENCE, HE SAID HE SYMPATHIZED WITH MRS. EMMONS AND THE LITTLE ONES.

WHEN SENTENCE HAD BEEN PRONOUNCED EMMONS' ATTORNEY GAVE NOTICE OF APPEAL, AND ARRANGEMENTS ARE BEING MADE TO EFFECT THE RELEASE OF EMMONS ON $10,000 BAIL PENDING THE APPEAL.

SPRINGS SENSATION IN COLLINS' CASE

Attorney Charges Collins and His Clerk With Plotting to Defeat Justice, Saying Fraud Was Used

SAN FRANCISCO, October 31.—Another scheme of George D. Collins to evade the consequences of his alleged bigamous marriage to Miss Clarice McCurdy has been nipped in the bud by the vigilance of Attorney Hiram Johnson before it had a chance to bear fruit. The nipping process was performed this morning amid great excitement in the court-room of Superior Judge Thomas F. Graham, where Johnson, in vigorous terms, charged Attorney H. A. Krouse with willfully using the process of the court in collusion with Collins to bring about a dismissal of the suit for maintenance brought by Mrs. Collins No. 1, in the hope that the charge of perjury and the charge of bigamy would fall with it.

Yesterday afternoon Johnson, who has been the adviser of Mrs. Charlotte Newman-Collins throughout the complex proceedings, was served with a notice that she had substituted in his place Attorney Krouse. Johnson did not sign the substitution at the time, but began a quiet investigation, which has uncovered the attempt to trifle with the court. The notice of substitution was followed immediately with a citation requiring Collins to show cause on Friday why he should not be punished for contempt for neglecting to obey an order of court requiring him to pay Mrs. Collins, the plaintiff, $100 a month alimony.

The ink on this document had scarcely dried before it was followed by a motion by Louis P. Boardman, one of Collins' attorneys, to submit the hearing to a per forma dismissal, so that the question of jurisdiction could be carried to the Supreme Court without delay. Ordinarily this request would have been granted, but Judge Graham cautiously required that the attorneys argue the points before submitting, and fixed this morning for that purpose.

JOHNSON SPRINGS SENSATION.

Boardman and Krouse appeared at the appointed hour, prepared to proceed. Unexpectedly Hiram Johnson dropped into the courtroom. His arrival caused Krouse to become a trifle nervous, but he was wholly unprepared for the developments that were soon to come. The moment Judge Graham called the case, Johnson was on his feet.

"I have been the attorney in this case," he said, "until yesterday, when Mr. Krouse presented me an order of substitution. I did not sign it then, but told him if it was all right I was willing to retire. In order to determine the facts I have been conducting an investigation. In furtherance of that investigation I would like to ask Mr. Krouse a few questions and ask that he be sworn in as a witness. Krouse did not want to take the witness stand. He floundered around in a vacillating protest, proclaiming that he was an officer of the court and that any statement he might make would be sufficient. Johnson did not think so. Neither did the court. For Krouse was finally compelled to mount the witness stand.

"When did you first meet Mrs. Collins?" Johnson asked.

"I object to that question," replied Krouse. "I don't think it makes any difference whether I met her five years ago or not."

Some Urge a General Slaughter While Others Pray in the Streets--Red Flags Raised.

ST. PETERSBURG, October 31, 12:20 p. m.—The Russian capital blossomed out with flags and bunting today. All the troops were withdrawn from the streets and the city presented almost its normal appearance.

The nervousness of the people has suddenly disappeared. Workmen by the thousands flocked back to the shops and factories without awaiting the permission of the strike committee. The authorities did all in their power to encourage the spirit of rejoicing over the newly granted liberties.

It was by order of General Trepoft that the regulation decorations were hung out, and the troops were instructed to permit the people to vent their feelings. Last night's demonstrations continued almost until morning.

"MARSEILLAISE" IS SUNG.

A procession of 5,000 persons with red flags paraded the Nevsky Prospect until four o'clock, singing the "Marseillaise" and they then moved down Litan street to the Russian bastille at the corner of Sphaleria street, where for an hour they made the welkin ring with revolutionary songs.

Immediately opposite stood the well-filled Cossack barracks and the crowd took particular delight in howling maledictions in that direction.

The Social Democrats, however, are urging their followers not to be tricked by the Government, but to keep up the fight. They organized a demonstration of the proletariat in the Vassilia Ostrov district in favor of the organization of a national militia and general amnesty.

MUCH DISTRUST BY PEOPLE.

The imperial manifesto has produced a wonderfully fine impression and if executed in a frank and honest spirit must allay much of the prevailing discontent. Distrust of the Government is so deep-seated, however, that the Liberals say that not until words are translated into acts and the people actually enjoy their liberties, will confidence in the Government be restored.

COUNT WITTE SAYS: "WAIT."

Count Witte has been showered with congratulations upon his personal triumph, but to all felicitations he says:

"Wait. Reserve your congratulations until I have succeeded." After seeing the Associated Press correspondent last night, Count Witte worked until 2 o'clock in the morning and was up again at 7. At 9 he began a series of consultations with his friends.

Before noon the celebrators began and the city soon appeared to have gone mad. Such scenes had never been witnessed in Russia. Unrestrained by word or deed, the crowds did and said what they liked.

RED FLAGS EVERYWHERE IN CITY.

Despotism seemed suddenly to have been replaced by license. Red flags were everywhere in evidence.

In the churches devout men and women on bended knees before the image of St. Nicholas, the Miracle Worker, rendered thanks for the blessings of liberty, while at the corners of the thronged streets orators harangued the populace.

The people assembled principally on the Nevsky Prospect. From the Kazan cathedral to the town hall, opposite the Hotel de l'Europe traffic was blocked. Fully thirty thousand workmen were massed there listening to student orators who delivered impassioned speeches from the steps of the town hall and cathedral.

Red flags showed above the dense black mass of cheering humanity. The police kept in the background, not even trying to keep the street open.

Passing patrols on their way to their barracks would have been mobbed had it not been for the appeals of the cool headed, who declared, to the accompaniment of cheers, that the troops were henceforth with the people.

STUDENTS PARADE IN STREETS.

The biggest demonstration was organized by students and workmen. A great procession was formed. Starting from the university, 10,000 strong, increasing in numbers as the demonstrators marched across the river and up the Nevsky Prospect as far as the Kazan cathedral, singing the "Marseillaise." A dozen red banners, inscribed with the word "Svoboda" (liberty) were carried at the head of the parade, which stopped at the places where the troops fired on the people January 22 and the paraders, with bared heads, chanted funeral dirges. The crowds in the streets uncovered their heads as the procession passed.

At the Kazan cathedral the procession counter-marched to the university, where from the balconies students harangued the crowds with fiery speech, urging the people not to cease the struggle until every right of man had been attained. In the midst of the oratory immense enthusiasm was created by a student who scaled the roof of the university and attached a red flag to the cross over the entrance.

BERKELEY MAN Baffles TWO BILL COLLECTORS
Summons Sleuths Unable to Serve Papers on Him, so Ask Courts Aid.

Seldom have the trained servers of a collection agency met with more difficulty without personal violence than two of these sleuths have had in trying to serve Ross Brower of Berkeley, teacher in a private school in San Francisco. Brower has cleverly avoided the summons, but it is a doubtful victory for Justice of the Peace Quinn this morning ordered a service by publication, and an extra $10 will therefore be charged against him.

Brower is alleged to owe A. B. Hill, a contractor, $36.45 for services and material. Being unable to collect the money, Hill assigned the claim to J. E. Muir, manager of a local collection agency, who promptly brought suit. Muir placed the summons in the hands of J. C. Plummer, a deputy constable, to serve, and when Plummer failed, it was turned over to Victor Smith, with similar results. This morning Muir, Plummer and Smith filed affidavits upon which Justice Quinn issued the order of publication.

The story of how Brower successfully avoided the service is told in these affidavits. A portion of Smith's affidavit reads:

SEE HIM; THAT'S ALL.

"I went to the home of the defendant at 234 Hulse street, Berkeley, and as I was approaching the door of said house, I looked through a window in said house, and saw the defendant seated at a dining table. I then knocked at the door, and a lady came, and I inquired if Mr. Brower was in. She inquired my business and I told her I desired to see Brower personally. She thereupon stepped into the room where the defendant was, spoke something to him which I could not hear, and the defendant immediately left that room for some other portion of the house. I could not see him after he left the room. She then returned to the door and told me I would have to leave the message.

"I inquired a second time if Mr. Brower was in the house or not. She replied that he was. I told her again that I wished to see Mr. Brower personally. She then left the door, and after a wait of several minutes, some gentleman came to the door, and told me that if I desired to serve those papers on Mr. Brower I would have to do so in San Francisco, but gave me no address.

"I asked if he was shielding or concealing Mr. Brower in the house and he said the house belonged to Mr. Brower, and he could do as he pleased."

WAITS ON DOORSTEP.

Smith goes on to say that he told the man he would wait on the doorstep, and he was informed that he would have to camp all night. He says he had a similar experience the night before.

Plummer's experience was similar to that of Smith's, according to his affidavit. He was met at the door by a woman, who said she was Brower's sister, and that Brower would return later. An hour later she said the teacher had gone to a theater, the name of which she could not tell. The next morning before 8 o'clock Plummer was again at the door, but he was told that Brower had gone to San Francisco. Again he called, so the affidavit recites, and he was told by a lady who answered his knock that Brower was in another part of the house. He started for another door, and a ten-year-old boy advised him that Brower was at home, but at the door he met the same elderly man he had encountered before, and was told that Brower had just gone to San Francisco.

Baffled in their efforts, the deputies gave up in despair, and appealed to Judge Quinn for relief.

TROUBLE BOIL AND BUBBLE

Affairs in Russian Manchuria in Chaotic Condition.

NAGASAKI, October 31.—On account of the active military censorship after the ratification of the peace treaty, when the Associated Press correspondent left the front, a statement for the press of the conditions in Russian Manchuria and Eastern Siberia was impossible. There was general, and especially in the army, scathing vituperation and recrimination affecting all the highest personages in Russia, including the Czar. The newspapers were filled with discussions regarding the causes of the war, and the motives by which it was inspired and fanned the flame. There was general distrust of all government acts.

DREAD TO GO HOME.

The military appeared to be anxious to remain in the East indefinitely, most of the officers dreading to return to Russia on account of the terrors which recurring disorders there gave promise. The large number of Russians belonging to the progressive element who had settled in the East, anticipating a new, modern empire, were animated by a spirit of revolt. The intelligence that anti-government demonstrations had successfully been suppressed caused such an outbreak in the Irkutsk theater that the Marcellaise was sung, and the shouts of "Down with the government! Down with the Emperor!" The peasants and lowest classes were declaiming against the religious practices of the state church, something hitherto unknown. The head of the institutions of oriental languages at Vladivostok was hooted, mobbed, spit upon and driven out by the students.

LAST TO LEAVE.

Generals Kaulbars and Batzanoff, commanders of the second and third armies, hurriedly quit the field after the treaty of peace was signed. General Kuropatkin will be among the last of those leaving.

When the armistice was signed at Shinhottu it was revealed that a scandal in the management of the army on the Tumen River had been discovered, consisting of the forage provisions causing a famine, and also military malpractice, owing to which the Japanese refused to negotiate the armistice there, even after their signal victory.

A RAY OF HOPE.

Opposed to this gloomy aspect of affairs are the facts, first, that a new era of communication has been inaugurated by British engineers who have just completed a wireless telegraph system extending from the Liao River to the Tumen River and thence to the Amur and the extension of the Amur railway; second, the expenditure of government money for constructing permanent barracks at Harbin, Vladivostok and Khabarovsk and the building of railways; third, the opening of the northern part of the Island of Sakhalen and the promised modification of the laws applying to commerce and industry.

THE RUSSO-CHINESE BANK, which confronted serious diplomatic difficulties in re-opening throughout the Japanese sphere of influence, is already in active operation.

CANT CUT FIREWOOD ON UNCLE SAM'S LAND

TUCSON, A. T., October 31.—Deputy United States Marshal Forest W. Hill has just returned from Fairbank, where he placed Ben Heney, a prominent merchant and politician, under arrest on a charge of cutting wood on United States mineral land. Heney is a brother of Francis J. Heney, who has charge of the prosecution of land grabbers. J. M. Montana, his partner, and James Smyth, his foreman, were also arrested.

The Fairbank Commercial Company, of which Heney is head, has a contract for furnishing wood at Fort Huachuca, and had a large force at work cutting timber in the Huachuca mountains. James Tibbitts, a rancher in Ramsey canyon, advised the Government that the company was cutting the laws.

J. W. Harbison, special agent of the Department of the Interior, was sent to investigate the matter, and as a result a warrant was issued for the arrest of the three men, and Walter E. Kibbey, assistant United States Attorney, and a son of the Governor, was sent to prosecute them before United States Commissioner Olinore of Tombstone on Monday, and their hearing was set for November 8.

SCOTTY'S LUCK IS STILL GOOD

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 31.—Walter Scott, the Death Valley miner who was thrown from an automobile last night while running fifty miles an hour, is not dangerously injured. A further examination of his spine today disclosed no injuries likely to prove permanent and although severely, the miner will recover.

SIGN FOR CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Leading Citizens Giving Hearty Support to Movement to Aid Oakland's Upbuilding.

This morning a number of names of business men in this city were attached to the membership list of the proposed Oakland Chamber of Commerce. Not a person who has been approached on the subject has withheld his signature.

The names of those who have agreed to become members will not be made known until the list is complete—that is, until it becomes apparent that the Chamber of Commerce is to be the success which it is desired to be and which is within the reach of its members.

AN ASSURED FACT.

"You may say," said a leading citizen today, "that the Oakland Chamber of Commerce is an assured fact."

The sentiment was echoed by half a dozen other citizens of various callings who were present.

When the speaker was asked as to who were the leaders of the enterprise, he replied:

NO LEADERS.

"There are no leaders. There are to be no leaders. This move is spontaneous. It has been born of necessity. Yet, it aims to supplant no other organization now in existence, the members of which feel inclined to maintain."

"Names of merchants have been mentioned in connection with this movement against their wishes, more especially in view of the fact that they were no mere enthusiastic over the project than were a hundred other merchants, lawyers, manufacturers and capitalists whose names have never been connected with the undertaking."

"The Oakland Chamber of Commerce will antagonize no organization or individual engaged in the up-building of Oakland. It will act affirmatively, not negatively. It will be for the improvement, the enlargement and the metropolitan greatness of this city and the merchants, manufacturers, capitalists, professional men, artisans—everybody in it."

HELP ALL INTERESTS.

"There is nothing which may need to be done to benefit the town and any class in it which cannot be done by the proposed organization, and done more easily and effectively. Some of the most enthusiastic of the friends of the proposed movement are men who have long known what good can be done and has been done by the Merchants' Exchange and the Board of Trade."

GOVERNOR L. E. WRIGHT OF MANILA FETTERED BY THE PEOPLE.

MANILA, October 31.—The farewell banquet to Governor L. E. Wright was attended by many army officers and civilians and was one of the most popular demonstrations ever given to an official of the islands. The Governor was flanked by Americans, Englishmen, Spaniards and Filipinos. He was cheered for ten minutes when he arose to speak. In his address he gave credit to his colleagues for the work that had been accomplished. He said:

"There never has been personal difference between the commissioners. From the first they never had been conscious of swerving from the policy of President McKinley. He urged the people to cease political discussions and work for the development of the islands."

CONGRESS ALONE TALKS.

"Whatever may be the utterance of any American, however distinguished, he speaks for himself alone. Congress speaks for the people. In view of what has been accomplished, may not the most logical Filipino trust the Government?"

He expressed faith in the future of the archipelago and his belief that Congress would favorably consider them. A declaration that he expected to return in a few months was greeted with great applause.

A public reception which will be tendered to Governor Wright and family on Friday promises to eclipse any similar event ever given here.

BABY RAISING TO ASSEMBLE TO DO COME HIGH HIM HONOR

WANT TO MONOPOLIZE THE MILK INDUSTRY TO INCREASE PRICE.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 31.—A combine of ten of the largest dairy companies in St. Louis, controlling about 85 per cent of the supply of milk, cream and ice-cream, has practically been completed with a capital of $5,000,000. The object of the amalgamation, according to a prospectus issued, is to raise the price of dairy products.

ASKS LIBERAL SUM FOR HIS KEEP

Some queer questions have developed in the trial of the suit of aged Daniel McMahon against his aged wife, Sarah McMahon, wherein the old man is seeking support. It has appeared in evidence before Judge Ogden that McMahon has been since April, 1902, residing at the home of his step-son-in-law, Edward Dougray. The latter asks $2000 for keeping McMahon up to the beginning of the present action, and $85 a week thereafter. Edward Dougray has testified that McMahon in his opinion, has been incompetent to transact business intelligently since April, 1901. He further testified that on July 29, 1902, he took a quitclaim deed from McMahon to the property in dispute which is situated at the southwest corner of Broadway and Nineteenth street. In addition to this Dougray testified that McMahon had squandered $700 belonging to his adopted son, Frank McMahon, and to make good to the minor for the alleged loss of the old man, Dougray had given the boy a deed to one-sixth of the realty which Mrs. McMahon asserts belongs to her husband and which she also asserts is sufficient to maintain him.

Today Mrs. Dougray was on the witness stand and described the condition of McMahon while residing at the home of herself and husband. She made it appear that the old man was incompetent and unable to transact business. The case is proceeding this afternoon.

A FOREST HINT FROM AFRICA.

"The natural forests of Africa are less in extent than those of any other continent on the globe," said Bertram D'Alton yesterday. Mr. D'Alton is making a study of American forestry methods for the Cape Government.

Extensive efforts are being made by the South African governments to preserve and build up the forests there. The natural forests of the Cape are scattered over wide areas, mostly on the flanks of the mountains, and are divided into five or six districts. The Department of Woods and Forestry has made rapid advances in the establishment of silviculture. Thousands of acres of waste lands are now used in the production of useful and valuable timber.

"The system of forestry makes provision for guarding against destruction by fire. Wide clearings are opened up around primeval forest boundaries so as to keep down any excessive growth of worthless scrub or tall grasses. In some cases limited burnings are permitted which add to the width of the protective belt. The young plantations are laid out in blocks from 300 to 500 yards square, which are marked off by fire poles at 50 to 100 feet wide on the inner sections and from 50 to 100 feet wide on the extreme boundaries.

"Labor is employed throughout each year to these fire poles properly cleared. In many cases shelter belts of fast-growing trees are planted in rows of ten to fifteen deep on the outer boundaries to ward off the hot or strong winds."—Washington Post.

DOCTORS OPERATE ON OSTRICH.

One of the largest ostriches in the Bronx Zoological Park underwent an operation to reduce the swelling of a large gland under one of the bird's eyes this morning. It was decided that lancing was the only means of saving the sight of the eye.

Dr. Blair and Acting Director Mitlenit grand task by no means an easy one. The ostrich struggled wildly at first, and the assistance of many attendants was required to get the bird into a crate. Then cocaine was administered to the deceased growth, and the operation proceeded.

The swelling was reduced considerably, and a cure is expected.—Philadelphia Ledger.

WOMAN'S WAY.

"Gracious, Mrs. A., but you have a pretty baby!"

"Yes, Mrs. B., all the neighbors say he is beautiful."

"No wonder! He is just a little sugar ball of love!"

"And the neighbors say he is the prettiest baby in the neighborhood."

"Oh, yes, indeed."

"What? Do you mean to say that homely little brat could compare with my baby when it comes to beauty? Why, the nerve!"—Chicago News.

CITY EMPLOYEES CALLS "MOVE ON" TO WRONG MAN

STREET DEPARTMENT SURPRISES ITSELF IN LAYING A SEWER.

The outlet sewer on Third street, which the Street Department has constructed at a cost of approximately $12,000 is nearly complete and will be ready for use it is thought on Monday next. The sewer is unique in many ways. It presented several engineering difficulties which were overcome by the use of piers. More than 250 piles were driven in the soft mud to support the sewer which is 24 inches in diameter. A truss bridge was first constructed on the piles and the pipe laid. The pipe itself was reinforced with jackets of cement.

NEW SEWER READY.

The sanitary conditions were so bad before the installation of the sewer that the Board of Health found it necessary to condemn several houses as unhabitable habitations owing to the accumulation of sewerage in the basements. After Monday when the sewer will be ready for use this condition of affairs will be remedied, and the drainage of the low portion of the city in that section will be as good as that of any other section.

The rapidity with which the sewer was installed by the employees of the Street Department has come in for favorable mention. The Board of Public Works ordered the sewer laid as an emergency measure.

FIRE VICTIM LEAVES WILL

The last will of Sarah Comerford, who died on October 24th in this city, was filed today for probate and her daughter, Elizabeth Webster of Petaluma petitioned to be appointed executrix. Mrs. Comerford left an estate valued at about $5,100. Her will executed May 13, 1898, left a legacy to her son Richard of $100 but he died prior to the death of his mother. The will further provides that the estate shall be divided share and share alike between Elizabeth Webster, daughter, and Philip Comerford, son of deceased. James F. Smith of San Francisco and Hugh S. Dimond of Fruitvale were witnesses to the will.

Mrs. Comerford was the aged woman who was burned to death in her house at 813 Seventeenth street.

IS WILLING TO WORK OVERTIME

City Treasurer Charles Bates announces that hereafter, until the first installation of taxes is paid, that he will keep his office open on Saturday afternoons for the accommodation of property owners. Taxes are coming in very rapidly, showing that the people in the community are well supplied with ready coin. It is too early yet to estimate the delinquency but a comparison with the amount of money received during the same time last year shows that this year will in all probability be the better of the two.

OLD NEW YORKER DIES.

Robert Thompson, a native of New York, aged 79 years, died last night at his residence, 542 E. 12th street. He had resided in this city for the last seven years. He leaves two children, Sadie and Charles Thompson.

KROUSE FORCED TO TESTIFY.

Again Judge Graham thought Krouse was in the wrong. He directed that the question be answered, and Krouse reluctantly admitted that it was sometime last week. He could not fix the date. Krouse said he was in an uncomfortable way, recovering himself at intervals long enough to snap out hollow words of defiance and then relapsing to his former pitiable condition. By degrees Johnson forced him to admit that he had visited Mrs. Collins at her mother's home, 2187 Larkin street, on Friday night, that he had never spoken to her before, and that he had no acquaintance with her except by sight.

"At the time you saw her did you make any representations to her about the money due from George D. Collins?" Johnson asked.

"I don't understand what you mean by that," Krouse answered, feebly.

"You don't ask," Johnson shouted.

"Then I publicly charge you before this court that as the representative of George D. Collins you have wilfully used the process of the court in a collusive attack with Collins to cheat the ends of justice. While pretending to act as the woman's attorney you have been in collusion with the defendant."

ADJOURN COURT TO TAKE A DEPOSITION

Trial of Niehaus Brothers Company suit against the Contra Costa Water Company halted in Judge Ellisworth's department this afternoon while Court Clerk E. L. Baker, Stenographer Whitton and the attorneys for both plaintiff and defendant went to West Berkeley to take the deposition of Charles Osterman, an important witness for the defendant, who is ill in bed. The trial will be resumed tomorrow morning.

THE PEOPLE'S FORUM.

A "Sport" on the Police.

To the Editor of The World:

"The police are controlled by brutal and inefficient police. Murders, robberies, etc., are not checked. The great halo about police, comes to divide the press and public. Eight thousand men are not required to close a few pool-rooms. Two hundred men or less could do it."

Sporting men are not bad citizens. Two points are gained through the pool-room excitement. Some of our citizens are deceived by the police and at the same time the sporting class are forced into giving up blackmail. Gen. Greene was a good commander, as he compelled the Police Department to treat citizens fairly.

The recent outrageous smashing of heads, furniture, etc., is not a good thing to permit as it is unlawful. It is a disgrace when men bet their money in a house and not at the race-track, they are not murderers or burglars. Smashing in doors, breaking furniture, heads, legs, etc., seems to be a safe game for the police, as it draws attention away from the ball of crime and at the same time the police are not required to close a few pool-rooms. Two hundred men or less could do it."

New York, October 9, 1905.

WOMAN'S WAY.

"Gracious, Mrs. A., but you have a pretty baby!"

"Yes, Mrs. B., all the neighbors say he is beautiful."

"No wonder! He is just a little sugar ball of love!"

"And the neighbors say he is the prettiest baby in the neighborhood."

"Oh, yes, indeed."

"What? Do you mean to say that homely little brat could compare with my baby when it comes to beauty? Why, the nerve!"—Chicago News.

NUCLEUS OF PERMANENT PRODUCT EXHIBIT

Temporary Housing, County Display at Portland Preparatory to Donation to the Public.

The exhibits of the resources of Alameda county which have been displayed at the St. Louis Exposition and, more recently, at the Portland Fair, were packed at the latter place today and this evening, will start on their journey to this place.

A number of thousands of dollars have been expended in the collection, the preparation and preservation of the same and it is the intention of the Supervisors to make that money go as far as possible by using the exhibits in question as a nucleus of a permanent exhibit of what can, under ordinary conditions, be produced in Alameda county.

AWAITING CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

Just where this exhibit will be established can not now be stated. That will depend upon the future but it is expected that the display will find its way into an exhibit which will ultimately be a feature of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce, which is now in process of formation.

LQS ANGELES EXAMPLE.

Such a utilization of the products would be following the example set by the Chamber of Commerce of Los Angeles, which has set apart, in its fine building, a large hall for the display of the many fruits, cereals, nuts and other things which may be raised in that section of the country.

The exhibit down there is visited by thousands of people every year all of whom marvel at its variety and richness and not a few of whom, as a consequence, are thus induced to invest money in that section and even to establish homes where they may go into the cultivation of this or that product which appeals to their liking.

The exhibits which are soon to arrive from Portland, for the last two years have been under the care of the commissioners from this county, viz: Messrs. Gier, Welby and Walker, and by the action of the Supervisors yesterday will be permitted to remain under their charge until further notice.

SEEKING DISPLAY AREAS.

These commissioners are endeavoring to find space in some of the county buildings in which to temporarily house the exhibits, pending final installation of the same in some structure where they may become accessible to both residents of the county and visitors from abroad.

FILLED BASEMENTS.

Theo. Gier, one of the commissioners, made a survey of the basement of the Hall of Records yesterday with a view to finding a room in which to store the goods, where they would be beyond the reach of curious individuals and mayhap, vandals, but his quest was not rewarded with success. Every available part of the basement had already been given over to the storage of county property of some other kind, the resting place of which could not be disturbed.

This afternoon, Commissioner Wilber Walker made a similar inspection of the underground quarters of the Court House but the result of his search had not, at last accounts, been announced.

Commissioner Gier is of the opinion that some of the fruit exhibit will have to be removed from the jars because it has been there now for more than two years, and has accordingly lost its value as an exhibit. The preserving fluid in some instances, too, will have to be fortified and other details must be attended to before the exhibit can profitably be again placed before the public.

WANT FIGHT WITH TEAMSTERS

COMPANY ORGANIZES FOR EXPRESS PURPOSE OF "DOING UP" THE UNION.

NEW YORK, October 31.—For the purpose of fighting the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, a corporation has been organized by the New York Team Owners' Association. Announcement that the Interstate Teaming Company had been formed was made yesterday. The company is capitalized at $100,000 under the laws of West Virginia.

Henry C. Hunter, secretary of the New York Team Owners' Association, said yesterday the new company would amalgamate trucking interests in New York and New Jersey. There was a report that Thomas O'Connell, secretary of the Chicago Team Owners' Association, who is in this city, had come here to amalgamate the New York and Chicago associations.

MAKING STUDY OF LOCK CANAL SYSTEMS

WASHINGTON, October 31.—The board of consulting engineers of the Isthmian Canal Commission held a meeting today to discuss the preliminary reports of the three sub-committees formed for the special study of the lock canal, the sea level canal and the unit prices for both of these.

It is expected that these three committees will be permanent and that a full meeting of the board will be held only once or twice a week, and that those points on which special information is desired will be referred to the committee which makes the study of the question its specialty. The decision probably will be reached about five weeks hence.

SALVAGE CLAIMS WILL BE HEAVY

HONOLULU, Oct. 31.—The tug Fearless, belonging to the Spreckels Tugboat Company, has filed a salvage claim of $20,000 against the French ship Ernest Reyer, which was recently pulled off the reef near Diamond Head, at the entrance to this harbor. The Inter-Island Steamship Company claims the same amount, and the steamer Lebia will also have a salvage claim.

ROB CARS TO SATISFY APPETITE

E. H. Raymond, aged 15, Lawrence Daily, aged 14 and Fred Telljen, aged 14 years, are being detained at the city prison on a charge of breaking into fruit boxes belonging to Philip Getz, a fruit merchant at 339 Twelfth street. The boys are alleged to have cut the screen protecting the fruit and to have taken what they wanted.

SHARPE TOO SLOW FOR THE THIEF

Craigie Sharpe, residing at 1750 Eleventh avenue, reported to the Chief of Police today that he had lost a gold watch by theft yesterday. He does not know whether the watch was taken by burglars who visited his home or by a pickpocket on the car.

SAYS NOTHING OF HIS TROUBLE

REAR ADMIRAL TRAIN NOT WORRYING OVER ATTACK OF CHINESE MOB.

WASHINGTON, October 31.—The Navy Department today received two cablegrams from Rear Admiral Train dated at Shanghai yesterday. No reference was made in either one to his having had trouble with Chinese on account of the shooting of a Chinese woman while hunting, as cabled to the London Evening Standard.

SHANGHAI, October 31.—Lieutenant Charles R. Train, of the American gunboat Quintero, with his father, Rear Admiral Charles J. Train, was attacked by a mob of Chinamen outside of Nanking recently while pheasant shooting, during which the admiral accidentally shot a Chinese woman, attempted to escape in the ensuing scuffle and wounded two Chinese with revolver shots.

Such incidents as the accidental shooting of a Chinese with birdshot are not uncommon, and are usually settled by the payment of a dollar or two. Admiral Train and Lieutenant Train promised to send a doctor to attend the injured woman, and to compensate her for her injuries. The two officers had started to return to their ships when the woman became hysterical and a mob surrounded the Americans.

ROYAL ARCANUM FUNDS ARE FREE

NEW YORK, October 31.—Justice Maddox in the Supreme Court in Brooklyn, has dissolved the injunction restraining the Supreme Council of the Royal Arcanum from suspending James Meek for refusing to pay his assessments according to the new rates, but the Justice explicitly stated that he did so only on the promise of counsel for both sides that they would bring the case to trial on November 20.

WANTS JURY TO PASS ON CLAIMS

Dominico Grasso, who is suing the Central Trust Company of California, administrator of the will of the late Dr. Gustav Rosenk, for services alleged to have been performed by Mrs. Grasso in nursing and caring for Dr. Rosenk for several years prior to his death, has filed a demand for a jury trial. The action is set for trial in Department 1 on November 6th.

MUTUAL TRUST IS INCORPORATED

The Mutual Trust Company of San Francisco has filed a copy of its articles of incorporation with the County Clerk of Alameda county. The corporation was organized in 1903. Its directors are: Adelphi F. Martin, John C. Dudley, Walter S. Upham, John L. Williams, and William B. Nash, all of San Francisco.

COMPANY BUYS MINE.

NEW YORK, October 31.—It was announced today that the Federal Mining and Smelting Company has purchased for $3,000,000 cash the Morning and You Like group of silver-lead mines, near Mullin, in the Coeur d'Alene district, Idaho. To meet the purchase the company has increased its common stock issue from $5,000,000 to $8,000,000, and its preferred stock from $10,000,000 to $12,000,000. The new shares will be offered to present stockholders on a basis of one-fifth of their present holdings.

GORMAN AND BONAPARTE.

Mr. Charles J. Bonaparte, secretary of the navy and chief fulminator for the purification of politics by the application of the bright theories of Euclid to the applicant for the position of waste-paper chaser for Uncle Sam, is opposed to the inclusion of an educational test for voting in Maryland. On the other hand, Arthur Pugh Gorman, who never believed that knowledge of the Data of Ethics was essential to the holding of office, is making the welkin weary with his insistence that it is dangerous to permit people who cannot read, write, spell and punctuate, or who split their infinitives, to vote in his Maryland. Logically Mr. Gorman should be for the people, for the free ballot and for as many of them as a man can congregate in a single day's work, while Mr. Bonaparte should be where Mr. Gorman is, contending for the educational qualification of voters. If washerwomen, messengers and chauffeurs are made more expert in their service to the country by acquaintance with the height of Mount Everest and the nodes of the moon, then the voters of Maryland, by the same token, will cast more beautiful ballots if they cast them in the full knowledge that the yarn about the gulf stream's effect on the climate of England is a fake. Culture's garland should be surely decorate the brow of those who hire the scrubladies (i. e., the sovereing "peepul") as it should dangle over the nose of the scrublady herself.

BEER FOR A COSSET LAMB.

"Orphan," a little lamb with the rabbit, "Orphan," a general favorite at the picture exhibition in the London slum, "I do love that child," said a workingman, "she just talks to me as if she was my own." Another picture with the same title, by Waterlow, represents lambs being brought up by hand in a blossoming orchard. Mr. Keir Hardie, M. P., the well-known labor-leader was taking some children round the exhibition. "Now, children," he said, after telling them about the country in the spring, "what do you think she is giving the little lamb to drink out of that bottle?" "Beer!" shouted every one with conviction.—World Today.

AIR LINE WORKS OVERTIME

GENERAL REPORTS NOME'S WIRELESS TELEGRAPH A GREAT SUCCESS.

WASHINGTON, October 31.—General A. W. Greeley, chief signal officer of the army, in his annual report, says that upon an hour's notice the Signal Corps can furnish all equipment necessary for 1000 miles of communication. Studies of war in South Africa and Manchuria have shown deficiencies in the army only in connection with the fire control of field artillery.

Direct telegraphic communication is now established with five military posts in Alaska. The commercial business has netted $100,000 during the past year and it is estimated will be increased to $200,000 annually. The submarine cables of Southeastern Alaska are 2300 miles long. General Greeley says the gradients of ocean depths were found abrupt, instead of gradual, as was indicated by existing soundings.

WIRELESS A SUCCESS.

Speaking of the wireless work in Alaska between Nome and St. Michael, General Greeley says: "This is the only long wireless telegraph system in the world; it is believed, that it regularly operated as a part of a telegraph system handling commercial business. On August 6, 1904, it completed a year of uninterrupted service over its course of 107 miles. It has handled, and uninterruptedly, the entire telegraphic business of Nome and the Seward peninsula, which, together with the official business, averages several thousand words daily. More than a million words were sent during the year, many thousands being commercial code words in which no error has ever been traced to this section. In a single hour there have been transmitted over this section 2000 words without error or repetition."

COURTING, OLD STYLE.

There is not a country-bred man or woman now living but will tell you that life can offer nothing comparable with the innocent and that style of courting that was done at singing school in the starlight and candlelight of the first half of our century.

There are few hearts so withered and old but they beat quicker, sometimes when they hear the old-fashioned churches, the wailing, sobbing or exciting strains of "Broadstreet," or "China," or "Coronation," and the mind floats down on the current of these old melodies to the green young days of boyhood and illusions of voices that were sweet, no matter how false they sang; of nights that were rosy with dreams, no matter what Fahrenheit said; of girls that blushed without cause, and of lovers who talked for hours about everything but love.—From "The Blood Seedling," by the Late John Hay, in the October Lippincott's.

PROTEST AGAINST SALOON

PROPERTY OWNERS DO NOT WANT IT ESTABLISHED NEAR WORKING GIRLS.

An attempt is being made to establish a saloon on the southwest corner of Tenth and Clay streets, and general protest against it has been made by the property owners in that vicinity.

The fact that there are 150 girls employed in the factory of Levi Strauss on the opposite corner and that there are already four saloons within 400 feet of the proposed site, cause the protesters to wage an unusually bitter contest against the establishment of a saloon. Petitions are being circulated among the property owners and the matter will be taken before the City Council.

NEEDLEWORK NOTES.

Rafia weaving and basket making will continue to be a favored form of occupation for fair hands and an especially suited task this dexterous work is for long winter evenings when by the side of the fire and under the glowing lamp long strands of dyed grass may be woven into wonderful shapes and designs.

The craze for white embroidered linen shows itself everywhere and on almost everything. A thoughtful gift in the form of a "polisher" for spectacles had covers of white linen, small rounds buttonholed all around, encircling a tiny spray of for-get-me-nots on one side and the initial of the recipient on the other. Rounds of chamomile formed the leaves, through which holes were punched near the edge, eyelet holes on the linen corresponding with these. A bit of blue ribbon passed through all, tying in a bow, keeping them together.

The girl with the "poster craze" will appreciate the gift of one or two posters for her den on her birthday and a neat little hanger attached to each one will be greatly appreciated. Cut a small circle about one inch in diameter from a white card, one end of an old-style visiting card will do. In the center of this cut a circular hole, through this pass a piece of baby ribbon two inches long. Paste the two ends of the ribbon together on the back of the poster, near the top, but do not let the ring show above. The circular hole will easily slip over a nail and the poster will hang flat against the wall. "Knowledge is power."

A unique and at the same time very useful souvenir which one may make to give to a kodak faddist is a film case. Use four pieces of cardboard, six inches by eight, and cover them with brown linen. On the outside of one cover embroider the word "films" in attractive script and with effective colored silk. Upon the reverse side outline a graceful spray of blossoms and work the monogram of the prospective recipient. To these ornate covers the six envelopes with harmonizing shade of ribbon, threading it through the flaps, also acting as a hinge to hold the covers. These envelopes should be lettered separately with water-colored paints upon the address side: "Con- tents," "Dates," "Scenes," "Incidents," "Persons," etc. This will prove a handy article as well as an attractive one to the kodak fiend as a receptacle for scattered films.

The girl with the "poster craze" will appreciate the gift of one or two posters for her den on her birthday and a neat little hanger attached to each one will be greatly appreciated. Cut a small circle about one inch in diameter from a white card, one end of an old-style visiting card will do. In the center of this cut a circular hole, through this pass a piece of baby ribbon two inches long. Paste the two ends of the ribbon together on the back of the poster, near the top, but do not let the ring show above. The circular hole will easily slip over a nail and the poster will hang flat against the wall. "Knowledge is power."

A unique and at the same time very useful souvenir which one may make to give to a kodak faddist is a film case. Use four pieces of cardboard, six inches by eight, and cover them with brown linen. On the outside of one cover embroider the word "films" in attractive script and with effective colored silk. Upon the reverse side outline a graceful spray of blossoms and work the monogram of the prospective recipient. To these ornate covers the six envelopes with harmonizing shade of ribbon, threading it through the flaps, also acting as a hinge to hold the covers. These envelopes should be lettered separately with water-colored paints upon the address side: "Contents," "Dates," "Scenes," "Incidents," "Persons," etc. This will prove a handy article as well as an attractive one to the kodak fiend as a receptacle for scattered films.

POLITICAL BOSS IN CHARGE

LEADER OF ERSTWHILE DEMOCRATS PRACTICES AT LOCAL BAR.

Trial of the suit of the Continental Building and Loan Association against William E. Rudell, to recover $5,612.20 alleged to have been collected by defendant while acting as agent for plaintiff and withheld, again occupied the attention of Judge Waste and a jury today.

Chief interest centers in the fact that Gavin McNab, prominent in San Francisco politics, is leading counsel for the Continental and that Justice William R. Geary of East Oakland is the counsel for the defendant. Otto Irving Wise being associated with McNab.

Today a multitude of witnesses were in attendance. Of these J. E. Nathan and Mrs. A. E. Henry gave interesting testimony. Mrs. Nathan formerly resided at Fruitvale but now lives in Jessie street, San Francisco. She testified that two years ago she purchased a lot in Fruitvale and that Rudell negotiated the sale. He asserted that he owes the Continental Building and Loan Association nothing.

WANTS PAPERS TO HELP

In Russia's Extremity Witte Appeals To The Press.

ST. PETERSBURG, October 31.—Count Witte today summoned a conference of the editors of all the St. Petersburg newspapers and asked their aid and co-operation in restoring normal conditions and securing the confidence of the people in the new regime, the purpose of which was to give the fullest measure of liberty outlined in the manifesto.

The Count said he had telegraphed to many eminent Liberals to come to St. Petersburg, and assist in putting the new administration on a solid and acceptable footing, but while the railroad strike prevented their arrival, he was forced to rely on the sober sense of the St. Petersburg press, without whose assistance in calming the people, the government could do nothing positive, and would be obliged to content itself with negative and even reactionary measures.

PAPERS IN ABEYANCE.

The editors present expressed the fullest confidence in Count Witte, but declared that they could not publish their papers without the consent of the strike committee. The editors of the radical papers, said that to content the people it was necessary to give the fullest amnesty to political prisoners and remove General Trepoff, the Cossacks, and the other military forces from the city.

Count Witte, said the government intended to proclaim amnesty. A manifesto was being prepared, but everything could not be done in a day. He added that it would be madness to remove the troops from the city at such a juncture.

ENJOYS SAILING WITH FLEET

SQUADRON GETS UP HIGH RATE OF SPEED FOR PRESIDENT.

U. S. WEST VIRGINIA, via Portsmouth, Va., October 31 (by wireless).—The West Virginia and the three other ships of the armored cruiser division, passed Cape Henry at 8 o'clock last evening and proceeded up the bay. The opportunity of cruising with the squadron at high speed and for twenty-four hours under unfavorable weather conditions has been most enjoyable. The passage from the mouth of the Mississippi was made in three days and ten hours, breaking all records.

The President enjoyed the entire trip and spent almost all the days on the bridge.

WASHINGTON, October 31.—President Roosevelt came ashore from the Dolphin at the Washington Navy Yard at 11:55 o'clock this forenoon, and five minutes later he had left the yard for the White House in a carriage with Mrs. Roosevelt, and the trip was at an end which rounded out his tour of the entire United States during his Presidency. The President will go to the executive offices after luncheon.

Two hours before the Dolphin reached her moorings people began to gather at the navy yard wharf. For an hour an escort of marines, headed by the marine band, were in line facing the wharf. Ten minutes before the landing was made a salute of twenty-one guns was fired from the yard, which was immediately answered by the Dolphin.

As the President stepped ashore the bugles sounded and the marine band played "The Star Spangled Banner." The President stood uncovered and the officers and marines stood at attention.

It was intended that the marines should escort the President out of the yard, but at the conclusion of the tribute to the flag Mrs. Roosevelt drew up behind the guard, the President entered the carriage, warmly grasped the hand of his wife, and his carriage proceeded out of the yard. The crowd roared its sentiment of welcome and as the many huge shops were passed the workmen rushed out and cheered.

"Glad to see you," shouted the President, "and glad to see you back." came the voices from the shops.

NO RAIN FALLEN THIS SEASON

AT THIS DATE, LAST YEAR, TOTAL PRECIPITATION WAS NEARLY NINE INCHES.

"I am afraid we will not have rain for sometime, now. I expected some a few days ago. We had a little yesterday but it was scarcely noticeable. We are backward this season as compared with the rainfall at this time last year. At this date a year ago we had 8.10 inches of rain," said H. M. Sanborn, the florist, who has kept the record of precipitation in this city for a generation.

"The season" in the world of rainfall in this section begins July 1st and ends June 30th of the succeeding year. The record shows that rain fell early last year, the first fall taking place on August 1st, when there was a precipitation of .02 of an inch. This fall was followed on the 23rd of the same month by another .02 of an inch. September brought several showers the date and precipitation of which in inches and fractions of an inch are as follows:

24th..... .12
25th..... .16
26th..... .59
This gives the total rainfall for September as 4.59 inches.

showers in October were as follows:
1st..... .03
2d..... .74
3d..... .96
4th..... .82
5th..... .10

7th..... .25
The October rain amounted to 3.56 inches, the total up to this date being as given above, 8.10 inches.

The answer of the State denies that the bail is excessive; denies that Dougherty could do anything to sustain the values of the securities he has deposited with the school board, and declares that the probable amount of the Dougherty shortage will call for a bail in excess of $100,000, instead of less, as demanded by Dougherty. The case will be heard tomorrow.

SOLDIERS GUARD POLITICAL PRISON FROM THREATENED ATTACK.

Men Leave Work and Flock Together Under the Red Flag--Minor Disorders Among Authorities And The People.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 31.—As the afternoon advanced the crowds became more unruly and there seemed to be a momentary danger of great disorders. Up to 6 o'clock, however, no serious collisions had taken place. The workmen all over left their work and drifted to the center of the city, massing before the Kazan cathedral.

Fully a hundred thousand persons gathered in the great square, completely filling the space between the spreading colonnades of the cathedral, whose wings, like St. Peter's at Rome, stretch out like arms on either side.

The spectacle was impressive. In the gathering glow, the red banners massed behind speakers on the cathedral steps seemed like splashes of blood against the gray, cold, imposing edifice.

The orators were mostly students and workmen. Their appeals kindled the wildest enthusiasm in the crowd, which included hundreds of women and girls. The oratory continued for hours and while it was in progress a procession was formed with students at its head, bearing red flags.

"TO THE BASTILLE."

A cry was set up "To the Bastille," and the procession started in that direction. The preparations had been made against attempts to storm the political prison, termed the bastille, and all the afternoon two companies of the Semenofsky regiment and four squadrons of hussars were drawn up on Shpalernia street, with ample reserves inside.

The leaders of the procession, however, had already been advised that Count Witte had announced that an amnesty proclamation was being prepared, and led the procession to the Nevsky Prospect and the Nicholas station, followed by an immense crowd, all singing and shouting.

Complete darkness had settled down before their return.

At the Kazan cathedral the procession was joined by the thousands there, and singing the "Marseillaise" and shouting for a constituent assembly.

The human tide now composed of fully 200,000 persons, swept down the avenue and across the palace bridge to the University, in the Vassili Ostrov district.

The shop-keepers and the better classes of people became panic stricken, fearing that the mob would get control of the city.

The stores were closed and people fled to their homes.

The Nevsky Prospect and other streets were boarded up from end to end as a precaution against possible pillage.

The strike committee during the afternoon decided to continue the strike, joining with the students in their demands for a deposition of General Trepoff, general amnesty, the removal of the troops to twenty miles out of the city, and the creation of a national militia.

MINOR DISORDERS.

There were some minor disorders and revolver firing reported during the day at various places. Gendarmes at the polytechnic institute fired on some students, wounding some, and eighty-two were made prisoners.

An officer in a restaurant who refused to doff his cap before a red flag, was set upon by a crowd, but he covered his retreat by firing two shots in the air.

A collision between whites and reds occurred near the Anichkov palace. The reds put the whites to flight and destroyed their flags.

ROME, October 31.—General satisfaction is expressed here at the manifesto of Emperor Nicholas granting Russia a constitution, and at the position taken by Count Witte. Hope is expressed that peace is re-established and that Russia will become prosperous, there being a community of interests, especially in foreign politics, between Russia and Italy.

The Pope heard the news this morning.

PREACHER CAUSES COURT MARTIAL IS NATHAN ADMITS COMPLICITY.

MARE ISLAND, Oct. 31.—When Lieutenant A. T. H. Yates, executive officer of the Bennington, now in command, went on the stand this morning in the Wade courtmartial, it was to verify the testimony, but after that was finished a question by the judge-advocate as to what orders were given regarding forcing boilers A and B on the morning of the explosion, gave counsel for the defense an opportunity to cross examine along this line.

Briefly, the witness said that when given the orders, he consulted with Captain Young, who was ashore. The witness was directed that the ship be ready to get under way with C and D boilers at 10 o'clock, boilers A and B not to be forced.

Upon returning to the Bennington, these orders were communicated to the accused and on the morning of the explosion the latter mentioned to him that he would be ready to connect up boilers A and B between 12 and 1 o'clock in the afternoon.

NATHAN'S DEPENDENCY since his arrest is regarded as important by the police officials and they are concentrating their efforts to learn just what caused it, and also to ascertain Miss Geary's physical condition when she was last seen in the company of the prisoner, that they may determine whether his connection with the case extends beyond the mere fact of getting her medical assistance.

The Boston officials were closeted with Nathan until after 12 o'clock and with the Pittsburgh officials, who immediately began the examination of members of the "Shepherd King" company. Samuel Forest was called first. The other members were awaiting their turns. The Boston officials refused to say anything as to any disclosures Nathan may have made.

ADmits RESPONSIBILITY.

"There is no doubt in my mind that the so-called Winthrop suit case mystery has been cleared," Morris Nathan, the young man now in custody, has admitted this afternoon that he had been responsible for Miss Geary's condition, and that he endeavored to get her out of the trouble. While the demands of courtesy prohibit me from giving out information which rightfully belongs to the Boston authorities, I will say that a man and woman will be arrested shortly and this suit case mystery will be cleared.

The above statement was given by Director Harry Moore of the public safety department this afternoon.

That a man located at Boston and with the case extends beyond the mere fact of getting her medical assistance.

Briefly, the witness said that when given the orders, he consulted with Captain Young, who was ashore. The witness was directed that the ship be ready to get under way with C and D boilers at 10 o'clock, boilers A and B not to be forced.

Upon returning to the Bennington, these orders were communicated to the accused and on the morning of the explosion the latter mentioned to him that he would be ready to connect up boilers A and B between 12 and 1 o'clock in the afternoon.

NATHAN'S DEPENDENCY since his arrest is regarded as important by the police officials and they are concentrating their efforts to learn just what caused it, and also to ascertain Miss Geary's physical condition when she was last seen in the company of the prisoner, that they may determine whether his connection with the case extends beyond the mere fact of getting her medical assistance.

The Boston officials were closeted with Nathan until after 12 o'clock and with the Pittsburgh officials, who immediately began the examination of members of the "Shepherd King" company. Samuel Forest was called first. The other members were awaiting their turns. The Boston officials refused to say anything as to any disclosures Nathan may have made.

ADmits RESPONSIBILITY.

"There is no doubt in my mind that the so-called Winthrop suit case mystery has been cleared," Morris Nathan, the young man now in custody, has admitted this afternoon that he had been responsible for Miss Geary's condition, and that he endeavored to get her out of the trouble. While the demands of courtesy prohibit me from giving out information which rightfully belongs to the Boston authorities, I will say that a man and woman will be arrested shortly and this suit case mystery will be cleared.

The above statement was given by Director Harry Moore of the public safety department this afternoon.

That a man located at Boston and with the case extends beyond the mere fact of getting her medical assistance.

The Boston officials were closeted with Nathan until after 12 o'clock and with the Pittsburgh officials, who immediately began the examination of members of the "Shepherd King" company. Samuel Forest was called first.

BAND CONCERT TO BE GIVEN AT MACDONOUGH

FRANCESCO FERULLO, LEADER ELLERY'S BAND.

Musical Treat Is in Store—"In Old Kentucky" for Last Time Tonight

Tonight will be given the last performance of "In Old Kentucky," which has proved one of the most successful pieces, financially speaking, as well as being one of the best plays of this season. In spite of the fact that this is its fifth season, in San Francisco this company played to capacity at the Grand, the theater having the largest seating capacity in that city. The play is certainly up to its standard, full of thrilling scenes, beautiful scenes, and coupled with its band of pickaninny players and the old Southern songs and buck and wing dancing which reminds one so much of the old time minstrel makes it certainly well worth the price of admission.

You should not lose this opportunity of seeing this performance as you will certainly enjoy it from start to finish and if you take the little folks it will give them something to think and talk about for some time to come.

"Arizona" will be played at the Macdonough Theater for two nights, commencing tomorrow, Wednesday, evening, and judging from the present out-look large houses are anticipated. This play is written by August Thomas, and is certainly a masterpiece in the line of play-writing. It is a play with unusual thrilling scenes, not of the melodramatic kind, but that which will hold an audience spell-bound, and also has many beautiful love passages in it which will bring tears to the most hardened hearts of old theatergoers. "Arizona" is a two-act play, the heart of the story in this piece is of the highest order, dealing with the love of a stern soldier for his wife, who is at least twenty years younger than he and on who an exciting existence does not pall. Her soldier husband is jealous to an alarming degree, thereby furnishing for the author an excusable chance for the plot of the play.

ELLERY'S BAND COMING.

There is considerable talk about town with reference to the concert to be given at the Macdonough Theater by Ellery's Royal Italian Band, on next Friday evening. Most of the musical people of this city as well as many other lovers of music have already signified their intention of attending this great concert. The program to be rendered will be a special one and will consist of some of the very finest music written, and a copy of same will be published in the theatrical news in Friday's issue. This band has certainly established a reputation for its grand playing. All those who appreciate a program of fine music well rendered should not overlook this concert. Seats are now on sale for this great concert.

In place of a number of excellent toasts will be given while the Endeavorers and their friends are seated around the tables. The theme for the convention is "Loyalty." A number of special addresses will be given by able speakers, and good music will be interspersed throughout both sessions.

EXPECTS VISIT OF CHARON

Watches Beside Coffin
on His Ninety-Fifth Birthday.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., October 31.—A birthday anniversary celebration with unique features was that yesterday of Isaac F. Perry of Slate Cut, Clark county, Ind. Mr. Perry was 95 years old, and he made much of the occasion by observing it by the side of what is to be his future tomb and his coffin. The coffin was made fifty-one years ago of ash timber whipsawed by Mr. Perry, while the tomb has just been completed and represents several years of labor.

The money for the tomb was contributed by Mr. Perry's father, in the shape of $25 worth of whiskey. Every arrangement for the funeral has been made by "Uncle" Isaac. He will be buried from the Silver Lick meeting-house, in which place the Indiana Baptists and adherents of Alexander Campbell split in 1829.

MRS. C. E. SPERRY SUMMONED

WIDOW OF PIONEER FLOUR MAN
IS CALLED TO HER REWARD.

SAN FRANCISCO, October 31.—Mrs. Caroline Elizabeth Sperry, widow of the late S. W. Sperry, the pioneer flour-milling man, and the mother of Mrs. William H. Crocker, the Princess Poniatowski and George E. Sperry, died at 8:30 o'clock last night. Mrs. Sperry had been ill for a month. Her death was not unexpected, but it came as a great shock to her family and friends. Mrs. Sperry had for years been very prominent in this city.

She took an active interest in social, literary and charitable societies. She was endowed with high intellectual qualities and one of the representative women of the State.

Princess Poniatowski was abroad when her mother was taken ill, but in response to a cable immediately came home and arrived here about ten days ago.

Mrs. Sperry was born at Sandy Hill, New York. When she first came to this State she resided in Stockton, where her husband was owner and manager of the Sperry Flour Mills Company. After Mr. Sperry's death she came to reside in San Francisco. Her age was 75 years.

Her private services in this city will be private. The remains will be taken to Stockton by special train tomorrow morning, where services will be held at St. John's Episcopal Church at 2 p. m. Interment will be in the family plot in that city.

PARISH ARE GIVING PLEAS-ING AFFAIR.

The annual parish fair of St. Columba's Church in Golden Gate is now in progress in Klinkner's Hall, and the members of the church are working diligently to make it a complete success. The fair opened last Saturday evening, and will continue for two weeks, and the committee in charge hope to make it the most successful ever held in the parish.

A large attendance marked the opening night, and fully as many people visited the fair this evening, when a reception was held by the ladies in charge of the Shamrock booth. The committee in charge of the booth had prepared an excellent musical program which was thoroughly enjoyed by those who attended the fair. The members of the committee in charge of the Shamrock booth are: Mrs. J. J. Finn, president; Miss Margaret O'Connor, Miss Nellie O'Connor, Miss Maid Schultz, and Mrs. N. J. Collins, assistants.

One of the features of the fair will be the entertainment which has been arranged by the ladies in charge of the Shamrock booth, which takes place tomorrow evening. A splendid musical and literary program has been arranged, and the members of the committee are confident that all who attend will be pleased with the result of their preparations. Those in charge of the Shamrock booth are Mrs. H. Westphal, president; Mrs. J. Rowke, Miss Margaret Ayden, Miss Caroline Ryan, Miss M. Doyle and Mrs. C. B. Lynch. Each evening of the fair will be devoted to one of the booths, and the entertainment will be arranged by the committee in charge.

TAKES MISSTEP IN DARK

FALLS EIGHTY FEET OVER A BLUFF NEAR THE OCEAN.

SANTA ROSA, October 31.—James Smith, who has been visiting his brother, John Smith, at Fisherman's Bay, had one of the most trying experiences that can befall a man yesterday. He walked over an eighty-foot bluff in the darkness last night, fell in a heap alongside the ocean, breaking his arm in the fall. He lay with the encroaching tide threatening all the while to gush him in its embrace and carry him out to sea.

When he was rescued after several hours the man was drenched to the skin and is now threatened with pneumonia as the result of his exposure. Smith had been drinking and was trying to reach his brother's cabin.

MILLIONS EARNED BY S. P.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE RAIL-ROAD COMPANY NEARLY READY.

It is said the annual report of the Southern Pacific Company for the year ending June 30, 1905, which is now being prepared and is now nearing completion in the general offices of the company will show for the twelve months gross receipts from all sources amounting to $92,938,999. This is an increase of thirty-two millions over the company's annual statement made fifteen years ago. No publicity will be given the company's expenses, net income and surplus for the year until President Harriman approves of the document in detail and makes it public.

It is of interest, however, to repeat the assertion of the several Southern Pacific officials to the effect that seven roads in the United States now earn in excess of fifty millions, gross receipts, annually. The Pennsylvania Railroad proper is placed first with $18,145,000 in gross receipts. Second on the list is the Southern Pacific with seventy-eight and a half millions. The Santa Fe is fourth with $6,171,000. Then come in the order named, the Baltimore and Ohio, Chicago and Northwestern, Union Pacific and the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul.

WASHINGTON, October 31.—A board of officers, consisting of Majors Jacob G. Galbraith, Inspector-General Edwin St. J. Greble, Artillery Corps and John E. Baxter, Quartermaster, has been ordered to meet at the earliest practical date, at Shuylkill Arsenal, Philadelphia, to examine and report upon blankets delivered to the arsenal under the contract of Henry T. Kent. The board is authorized to employ a stenographer and an expert in textiles if necessary. Several technical questions are involved, such as the matter of stenciling of the letters "U. S." in the blankets and afterwards steaming them.

AFTER SOUTHERN CLAIMS

Repudiated Debts of Confederacy to be Subject of Suit

NEW YORK, October 31.—The committee of North Carolina bondholders is planning a novel move by which it expects to compel North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia and other Southern States to redeem repudiated bonds amounting to about $40,000,000 in the aggregate.

Under the Constitution of the United States a suit cannot be brought against one of the States by a citizen of another State or a citizen or subject of any foreign State. Under the recent decision of the Supreme Court of the United States, in the case of South Dakota against North Carolina, however, a government may recover against a State of the Union upon its obligations.

TO GIVE BONDS AWAY.

The committee is now planning to transfer some of the bonds of the defaulting States not to another State, as South Dakota, but to a foreign State, the idea being that public sentiment in the United States to pay off the bonds if suit should be brought by the foreign States. Venezuela and Colombia, it is announced, have consented to accept a gift of some of the repudiated bonds and to bring actions upon them against the defaulting States.

WEDDING IN HIGH CHINESE CIRCLES

CHICAGO, October 31.—Chin Gem Sing of Indianapolis, grand master of the Chinese order of Masons, and Hen Sling, the 18-year-old foster daughter of Hong Sling, prominent in Oriental circles and Chinese agent for the Chicago Northwestern Railroad, are now thoroughly married to each other.

The series of celebrations began Sunday at the bride's residence. Last night, to the sound of heavy brass gongs and the discharge of fireworks, the bride, heavily veiled, was escorted up the long stairway that leads to the top floor of 321 Clark street, where the formal ceremony was performed in less than an hour.

More than forty guests were present, and the bride received expensive gifts. Judge T. Conway of Indianapolis, and Justice Caverly of the Harrison-street Police Court, were the only "foreigners" who saw the ceremony. The bride and groom will live in Indianapolis after a month's celebration in Chicago.

COULD NOT BE BETTER.

The uniform success of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy has won for it a wide reputation and many people throughout the country will agree with Charles W. Maclean of Milford, Va., who says: "It works like magic, and is the best preparation I know of. It couldn't be any better." He had a serious attack of dysentery and was advised to try a bottle of this remedy, which he did, with the result that immediate relief was obtained. ## NEW CURE FOR APPENDICITIS

GERMAN PHYSICIAN SAYS THAT THE OPERATIONS ARE UN-
NECESSARY.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—A surgical operation is not necessary to save the life of a patient suffering from appendicitis. This important statement is made in a report to the State Department by Consul General Gaenther from Frankfurt, Germany. He says a remedy has been found which will cure without the use of the knife. It is named "collanol," and is pure silver, soluble in water.

Dr. Moosbrugger of Leutrich has used "collanol," for appendicitis, internally as well as externally, with extraordinarily good results. Within two or three days after treatment decided improvement was noticeable in incipient cases. In cases where the peritoneum was inflamed the cure was very slow, often only after weeks of treatment both internally and externally. With the exception of two very severe cases out of seventy-two treated, all were cured without operation. It cannot yet be stated how long the cure will last.

A Genuine Cordovan Regal

This handsome extra-high-cut Regal shoe is made of genuine imported Hamburg "shell" Cordovan leather,—and it would cost you exactly $8 anywhere outside of a Regal store.

We have had a strong demand from many of our old and new customers for certain special lines of shoes that—even by Regal cost-saving methods—simply can not be built for $3.50 per pair.

Thirty-five of the 75 Regal styles are now this Fall,—and the regular price, right through the whole line, is $3.50, as usual. But to meet this insistent demand for special shoes we have made up a line of 15 special models at $4 per pair that we could never before include in the Regal list. This new "Campus" is one of the fifteen. It costs you 50 cents more than the regular Regal—but it costs you just half the price the regular shoe-store would have to charge for it.

The "Campus" is an ideal outdoor shoe for the business man—an exact duplicate of a shoe which is selling for two Guineas in London. And outside of its English original, we know of no other shoe of this style at any price that has the same quality of leather, the same features of fit, comfort and wear, and the same superiority of workmanship and finish. Every square inch of material in every part of the shoe is the best of the best.

Quarter Sizes as in all other Regal models.

BISHOP SPRINGS SURPRISE

Startles Episcopal Banquet With a Radical Speech.

CHICAGO, Oct. 31.—Like a thunderstorm after the slow winds of a sultry day, the Bishop of the Chicago diocese of the Episcopal church, followed a half dozen routine speakers at the Layman's Forward Movement banquet at the Auditorium last night with a bold address proposing changes in the canons of the church.

He stated that one of the purposes which he had in mind was to work on the plan for the present Chicago conference of clergy and laity was that of "clearing the air" in the relations between the general body of missions and the fifth district, which includes the States of the old Northwest Territory.

"The relations between the board of missions and the fifth district have in the past been strained," said the bishop. "The way to clear the atmosphere is to discover the terms of incompatibility and to destroy them."

Ever since Bishop Chase, the first bishop of Ohio, went out as an ambassador and representative of his district, and was opposed by Hobart, there has been a mutual distrust between the two sections of the church. The New Yorkers, while we of the fifth district are inclined to turn up our noses at the "effete East."

"Now, the trouble is not ecclesiastical, and it is not geographical. The trouble is that the church is divided by the daring spirit that led to the reformation and the same spirit that gave birth to the American nation."

The representatives of the East may assert that Chicago is not a city; that there is no taxation, and that there is representation. That is as true in theory as it is in fact. The fifth district wants to be a real, vital, integral part of the board of missions, just as every other district should be.

For the accomplishment of this end there must be in every district some local authoritative organization that is vitally identified with the general board. LAUNCHES PROPOSAL.

The bishop then launched a proposal which, in short, aimed at a change in the canons of the church and asked that canon 22, section 12, which provides that the general board be authorized to promote missionary organizations throughout the country, be changed to read that at every district shall be subordinate to the general board, but shall have power to conduct missionary work, spread the propaganda, raise money, and elect a representative upon the general board. The motive of the change and its result, he urged, would be to give the local authority, but to extend the power of the board, and asserted that the Middle West has stood for this point during the last twenty years and that it will be to the advantage of the districts and the missionary work of the church.

CHINESE EMPRESS SEVENTY

Her Celestial Smile Said to Be Most Beautiful.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—Miss Katherine Carl, a young artist of Memphis, who painted a portrait of Tsi An, the Dowager Empress of China, arrived yesterday on the Minnehaha of the Atlantic line from London. Miss Carl, who has lived in Paris for the last twelve years, will open a studio here.

She was requested to make the painting of the Dowager Empress for eleven months following I had sittings nearly every day. During all of the time my treatment was most courteous by the Empress whom I found far different from the cruel despot depicted by many modern chroniclers of Chinese history.

"While at the palace the Empress celebrated her seventieth birthday and I was surprised, for she had not looked more than forty to me. She has, I think, the most beautiful smile of any woman in the world."

MANY PICKS HARD AT WORK

MILLIONS FOR RAILWAY EXTENSION THROUGH THE WESTERN STATES.

PORTLAND, Oregon, October 31.—That Oregon, Washington and Idaho is the center of a railroad construction movement not known for a decade past in any one part of the country is evidenced by the fact that in the three States there is projected 1080 miles of railroad. A great part of these roads is now in process of construction and another larger part has surveyed and completed or nearly completed and the orders for material placed. In this development Oregon takes a slight lead over Washington and Idaho.

ARE NOW AT WORK.

The program of the Harriman system on which work is actually in progress are the Elgin-Joseph branch, 63 miles in length; Lewiston-Riparian line (owned jointly with Northern Pacific) 71 miles; Arlington-Condor line, 50 miles, and several cut-offs in the Willamette Valley which are being built for facilitating the handling of traffic. Lines on which the surveys have been made and which will be well toward completion within the year are Drain-Coos Bay line, 81 miles; Columbia Southern, probably 60 miles. Besides those in the Huntington-Eugene through Central Oregon with a branch to Klamath Falls to connect with the California Northwestern from Weed, Cal., making a through Southern Pacific line around Siskiyou. This latter has not yet been officially confirmed. The plans of the Hill system are the Klamath-Klamath Falls line, 224 miles, which is now in course of construction and which the grading contracts call for completion within one year; the Lewiston-Grangeville line through the Nez Percés country, seven miles (to be operated jointly with the Harriman line); and other branches approximating a total of 60 or more miles.

ANOTHER BIG LINE.

Beside the two great systems, the Great Southern is extending its line south from Duror, Or., 22 miles; the Pacific Coast Railway and Navigation Company now building from Hillsboro, Or., to Klamath Falls to connect with the California Northwestern from Weed, Cal., making a through Southern Pacific line around Siskiyou. This latter has not yet been officially confirmed. The plans of the Hill system are the Klamath-Klamath Falls line, 224 miles, which is now in course of construction and which the grading contracts call for completion within one year; the Lewiston-Grangeville line through the Nez Percés country, seven miles (to be operated jointly with the Harriman line); and other branches approximating a total of 60 or more miles.

Basing the cost of these 1080 miles on the estimated cost of the Hill line down to the north bank of the Columbia—$12,000,000—the total expenditure necessary to complete the railroads with, involves something like $55,000,000.

AVERT A STRIKE BY A COMPROMISE

FALL RIVER, Mass., October 31.—Amicable relations were established between the cotton manufacturers and the Textile Council at a protracted conference yesterday between representatives of the mill owners and operatives. A compromise agreement on the wage issue was arranged and in consequence of the understanding it is the general opinion that not only will a strike be averted, but that the wage question will be adjusted for at least a year.

"ETERNAL CITY" SCHOOLS

METHODISTS REPORT GREAT SUCCESS WITH GIRL IN CATHOLIC ITALY.

NEW YORK, October 31.—"No educational work which is being carried on by this society has been more uniformly successful or has achieved a more brilliant record than our girls' school in Rome," was the good news which Mrs. F. P. Crandon brought to the members of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church yesterday. The members listened to reports of the work in Roman Catholic countries, chief among which came that of this Methodist school for girls in the "Eternal City."

Miss Carnahan reported splendid success in Puebla, Mex., where eight day schools are supported by the society, with a prospect of six more. In Mexico City sixty boarders and 175 day pupils attend the Methodist Institute, not counting the kindergartens. Speaking for South America, Miss M. E. Holt reported 87 girls in the day school and 158 in the kindergartens at Rosario, with the mortgage on the Montevideo school buildings cancelled.

FIGHT FOR WATER ON NOME RIVER

SEATTLE, Wash., October 31.—The Micoena Ditch Company of Nome and San Francisco yesterday commenced suit against the Campton Mining and Trading Company in the State Court for the control of practically all the water in the Nome river. The plaintiff claims prior appropriation. An injunction is asked and $50,000 damages for water already taken. The local court acquired jurisdiction of the parties by service upon B. Nagelmeyer, who was passing through the city.

BELL THEATER.

It's a great week at the Bell Theater, one of the greatest in the history of this popular playhouse. Not alone are all the acts above the average of excellence, but several of them are so far above the usual class of performance given at the ten-cent houses as to be sufficient in themselves to crowd the house at every performance. The pictured scenes from the life of the revered martyr President McKinley have been retained. "The Gay Deceivers" is the title of one set of moving pictures, as a third-act feature, a series as ever shown in Oakland. Rice and Edwards, the comedians, present an amusing novelty entitled "The Trick Billionaire." Frank Hayes, whose character of The Eccentric Old Maid is famous throughout the length and breadth of the continent and who until recently was leading comedian at the Tivoli Theater in San Francisco, makes liberal contribution to the fun. Mr. Arthur Melvin, the Bell's popular boy tenor, this week sings the stirring martial ballad, "Won't You Wait, Nellie Dear" and is making a big hit with it. An act that has been winning enthusiastic applause and veritable wagonloads of floral tributes for its performers is that of Max Steiner, America's cleverest German comedian, who is supported by the well-known character comedienne Matie Hyde in an original sketch entitled "Sis Hopkins and the German Auction." There are two sets of motion pictures shown this week, the second being "Aunt Liza's Mistake." In her triumphant return engagement, after a long succession of triumphs in Eastern cities, Miss Mabel Howard, the Scottish Nightingale, is making a tremendous hit. Miss Howard is an Oakland girl, but even were not that the case she would be irresistible with her Scottish ballads. In addition to his regular program of marvelous feats of strength and grace Santell, the modern Sampson, the physically perfect man, will at the second performance on Thursday evening exhibit his famous "Bridge Lift" in which he sustains the combined weight of fourteen gentlemen taken from the audience on his chest. ## STRICKEN DURING OPERATION

BUSY SURGEON LAID LOW WHILE AT WORK ON PATIENT.

CHICAGO, October 31.—While he was performing a serious operation yesterday in the Michael Reese Hospital, Dr. J. W. Oswald, one of the leading and one of the busiest surgeons on the North Side, was stricken by paralysis. The operating table dropped suddenly from his hands and he picked up by an interne and given back to him; it dropped again from his helpless fingers; and then the attendants understood they carried him from the room and another surgeon completed the operation, which was successful. It is not expected that he will recover or even temporarily regain consciousness. It was said last night that the stroke was brought on solely by overwork and that the chances of recovery were slight.

Dr. Oswald never has suffered from paralysis before, or shown any symptoms of the disease. He is 42 years of age.

Goller (meeting him unexpectedly at lunch counter)—I thought you were a vegetarian and never ate meat?

Gosch—Well, confound you, can't you see that these are a sweetbreads?

Hearst's Canvass for Mayor

William Randolph Hearst may not beat George B. McClellan for Mayor of New York, but he has made the Tammany candidate roost lower and look anxious. He has cut the odds on McClellan from 5 to 1 to 2 to 1, and the probabilities are that the odds will go still lower. It is conceded that Hearst will be second in the race if he gets no better place. Bourke Cockran's remark that the Hearst campaign was a joke becomes less and less humorous as election day approaches. The Springfield Republican, one of the clearest-headed papers of New England, and vigorously anti-Hearst, had this to say in a leading article printed on October 24th:

"The Hearst canvass in New York City has undeniably gained great headway during the first week of the municipal campaign. The observers with long memories are beginning to compare it with the George canvass in 1886, and the present basis for such a parallel is the size and enthusiasm of the Hearst meetings and the first crop of straw votes."

The reader will be interested in what the New York Herald says on this point. "Polls, straw votes, canvasses," according to the paper, "all show a tendency on the part of the workingmen—clerks, laborers, street car employes, printers, mechanics, draymen and porters—to vote for Hearst. It has become a sort of craze." And this sentiment "extends to dry goods stores, saloons and restaurants, hotels and telegraph offices. Union labor in all five boroughs is swelling the Hearst chorus."

The New York World intimates that it would just as soon see Hearst elected as not. It has no use for Ivins, the Republican candidate, and treats his nomination as a sardonic joke, and it hates Tammany with inveterate and unflagging zeal. While it regards McClellan as personally a clean and amiable man, it declares that he represents Tammany at its best. And Tammany, it says, is not to be tolerated on any terms.

We judge the esteemed Rio Vista News has confounded comment on a recent paragraph in THE TRIBUNE with what this paper really said, or it would not have printed the following:

"The editor of THE OAKLAND TRIBUNE should become better posted on the new court house and jail question, the geographical construction, and the assessed valuation of the different sections of Solano county before he criticizes the citizens of central and eastern Solano, and our County Seat too severely. As far as sleepiness is concerned Oakland is not so wide awake that it does not need shaking every once in awhile to keep it from snoring, and what would become of Vallejo without the Navy Yard, even if it did have the county buildings?"

We have had nothing to say about the "geographical construction and the assessed valuation" of the different sections of Solano. We mentioned the fact that the proposed removal of the county seat to Vallejo was being agitated and remarked that the best way to hold it at Fairfield is to build some elegant and commodious county buildings there. The location of Solano's county seat does not concern—or disturb—us, and we object to being rated as a partisan of either faction in the controversy.

William J. Gaynor, Justice of the Supreme Court in Kings County, New York, has gained the reputation of being a fearless judge and an equally fearless citizen, but he has recently displayed himself as a four-flusher of the most pronounced type. Brooklyn, it may be remarked, is in Kings county and is a part of the city of New York, but the District Attorney of New York county, which comprises Manhattan Borough, is not voted for on the other side of East River. There are three candidates for District Attorney in New York county—the Tammany nominee, Jerome, independent endorsed by the Republicans and a municipal ownership candidate on the Hearst ticket. A prominent clergyman of New York City wrote Judge Gaynor a letter asking him whom he should vote for. Judge Gaynor responded in a fifteen hundred word letter telling him to vote for the best man. As the clergyman was trying to find out which of the three is the best man, the Judge's advice was not illuminating. It was merely a dodge. His Honor evidently did not relish offending Tammany Hall. He displayed the trait of the so-called "prominent citizen" who lies down whenever a real issue arises and becomes hot—lets go and quits rather than "make enemies" or "lose business."

D. M. Parry says our liberties are in danger from the Administration. We can hear a loud amen from Senators Mitchell and Burton.

General Hell-Roaring Jake Smith says America is a hard country to loaf in. Evidently he has not studied the dolce far niente of tramp life in California.

The Revolution in Russia

Revolutions never go backward is an apothegm deriving its force from the fact that a revolution is not a revolution unless it is successful. They are emeutes, revolts, insurrections, uprisings or rebellions if they fail.

In Russia revolution seems an accomplished fact, but to what extent it will go remains to be seen. The ancient autocracy which the Swedish house of Rurik reared on the chieftainship of a Tartar tribe has passed away, but the throne and the dynasty remain. Will the dynasty be driven out? Will the throne be overturned in the national convulsion? These questions cannot be answered at this time.

Nicholas has consented to give the empire a constitution, and to allow an elective assembly to make the laws and control the vital questions of revenue, taxation and national expenditure, but this is a concession wrung from him by fear. He offers his subjects a constitution to save his crown. He will cheat them if he can and violate his word at the first opportunity. Hence nobody can tell what the outcome will be. Nicholas is as weak and vacillating as Louis XVI. and as false and treacherous as Charles I. He is surrounded by evil counselors, women, priests, court parasites, a rotten aristocracy and a corrupt official. There is superstition, insanity, and tyranny in his blood. He will promise much and give as little as he can. No independence is to be placed in his word. The nation knows this, and pays heed to no one but Count Witte, who is a man and a patriot.

The progress of the revolution has been rapid for so backward a country as Russia; it has spread with surprising rapidity among a people so inert, mentally sluggish and unlettered as the Russians; it has approached a climax with a suddenness that is startling in view of the vast repressive force at the command of the Czar. In France it was nearly four years before the revolution reached its climax in the beheading of Louis. The revolution in Russia is less than two years old. But the people have struck work and the army has refused to slaughter them. In a moment the business of the empire and the power of the Czar became paralyzed. It is a passive revolt, but the most effective and widespread one in history. Whether the Czar goes or stays Russia has taken her place at last among constitutionally governed powers. Absolutism has finally been abolished from Europe save in the corner where the belated Turk still keeps alive the twin relics of barbarism—polygamy and slavery—and maintains an Oriental despotism that shames the statesmanship of the age.

Judge Greene's Worthy Successor

The place on the Superior Bench so long and honorably occupied by the late William C. Greene has been filled by the appointment of T. W. Harris, for several years a capable and painstaking deputy in the District Attorney's office. Mr. Harris will prove a worthy successor to Judge Greene. He is a sound lawyer, a keen judge of human nature and a man of high principle. He possesses the judicial temperament, and is fair and just in disposition. He is endowed with the moral backbone which imparts judicial courage, and is a man to whom public responsibility is a sacred trust.

The appointment of Mr. Harris is a popular as well as a fitting one. It is highly commended by the bar as well as the lay public. Politically it is regarded as an honor justly deserved and worthily bestowed, for Mr. Harris has long been a Republican leader of force and influence. For many years he has been a power in party councils, and his judgment in party matters is always respected for its soundness and its grasp of existing conditions.

The appointment of Mr. Harris will be especially popular in Murray, Pleasanton and Washington townships, for he is essentially a representative of the rural districts. While he has become a resident of Oakland since his appointment as Deputy District Attorney, Mr. Harris' real home is near Pleasanton on the borders of Livermore valley. He has been so long identified with that region personally and politically that he is not to be separated from it by a mere change of residence due to the exigencies of official position. He is still the counselor and friend of the people among whom he passed his youth and with whom his warmest sympathies lie.

Governor Pardee had a number of excellent lawyers to choose from, and in some respects making a choice was embarrassing because it required him to single out among personal friends and warm political adherents. Yet it must be said that he has acquitted himself of a thankless task to general satisfaction. He has satisfied bench and bar and popular sentiment, and at the same time gratified the party organization. No Governor could do better. Unfavorable criticism of the appointment will not be heard in any quarter.

Secretary Taft has mixed things in the Ohio campaign by taking a smash at Cox, the Republican boss of Cincinnati. It has had much the same effect as would a drop of Tobacco sauce in a dish of prune juice. It has set tongues to smarting and tempers to burning. The big Secretary of War remarked that if he resided in Cincinnati he would vote the local Democratic ticket this year—a plain intimation that the Republican ticket is unworthy the support of decent Republicans. As the Republican ticket is but another name for Boss Cox, the personal inference regarding that worthy is equally plain. A good many Republicans both in and out of Ohio agree with Secretary Taft's estimate of the Cincinnati Republican machine. It is nearly as bad as Philadelphia's, which seems to have reached the limit of political rottenness. Secretary Taft's talking out in meeting, however, has precipitated a lot of ugly talk about "knifing" and "getting even," and both the State and Cincinnati local tickets are likely to suffer in consequence.

Bailey Millard, formerly literary critic of the Examiner and more lately editor of a popular ten cent magazine, announces with the air of one making a great discovery that all really strong writers have good legs. Whether this judgment is based upon personal examination or upon the theory that strong writers must necessarily have good understandings, we are unable to say. We are convinced, however, that the Bailey Millard legs are of the right sort to establish a claim to literary genius. Mr. Millard can confidently show his lower limbs when he has no other proof to offer that he is a man of parts in the world of letters.

BEE HIVE CAR LINE.

Car 115 of the Haywards electric car line, going to Oakland at twenty minutes of six Sunday evening, carried 117 passengers. The seating capacity is 40. The car quite resembled a bee hive in swarming time. Since there has been so much settlement out this way, this is not an unusual load for a car to carry at certain times in the day. It seems to people here as though more ample accommodations could soon be provided. In fact they are looking for those large cars that it was some time ago understood that the company bought to put on the country line and which were put on in the city. Another point in which it seems to people here that service could be bettered is in making connections with the Southern Pacific local trains at Twenty-third avenue, going in. The country line of cars "go round the horn" coming out but not going in, and consequently passengers in the latter case have to walk a couple of blocks. —San Leandro Standard.

WAYS OF WRITERS.

In Lord Byron's letters he tells how he once had a visit from "a Mr. Coolidge of Boston, a very pretty lad, only somewhat too full of poetry and 'enthusiasm'."

Byron says: "I was very civil to him during his few hours' stay and talked with him much of Irving, whose writings are my delight. But I suspect he did not take quite so much to me, from his having expected to meet a misanthropical gentleman, in wolfish breeches, and answering in fierce monosyllables, instead of a man of this world. I can never get people to understand that poetry is the expression of excited passion and that there is no such thing as a life of passion, any more than a continuous earthquake, or an eternal fever. Besides, who would ever shave themselves in such a state?"

Canon Nicholl used to tell how some fifty years ago he had visited the famous house of the Thrales in that suburb of London where Dr. Johnson was at home. "Johnson," said the canon, in recalling the visit, "had occupied two rooms and these were left as he last used them. The sight was an extraordinary one, for ink was splashed all over the floor and even on the walls. It was one of the doctor's habits to dip his pen in ink and then shake it."

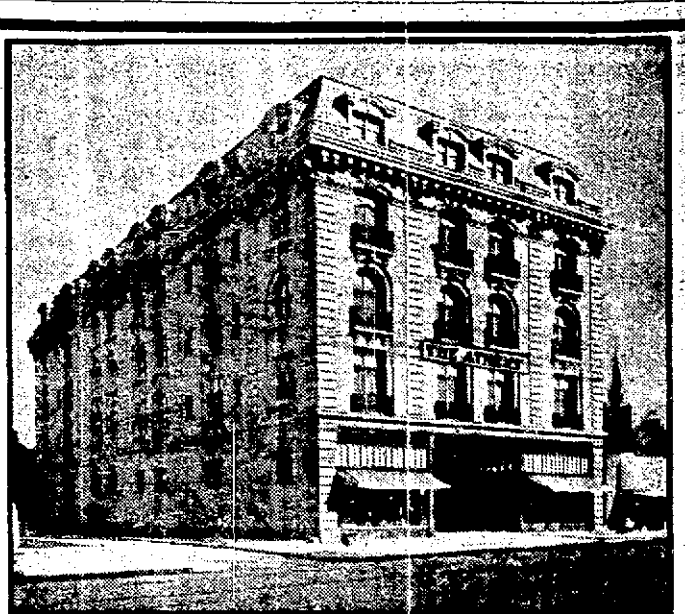

In the opening of Julia Magruder's "The Thousandth Woman," the author says of her heroine: "When she was 26 she married a man ten years her senior. A little further along she speaks of her husband as being 41. Two or three pages later he says of the wife, 'She was now 26,' although the action of the story had occupied but ten days since the husband was ten years her senior and was 41. Later she speaks of the husband as now almost 40."

THE SOUTH'S ROSEATE FUTURE.

The South is destined to become the richest spot of the world. The monopoly of cotton here, so far as our country is concerned, the production of fruit and vegetables at a time when they have no competition in the markets, make our soil vastly more productive in value than would be indicated by the size of the yield per acre. There is no better investment in the world than farming land in the South. Other investments may more fitfully advance, but they will not advance steadily. Farming land in the South will double in value every ten years for the next half a century.

REFLECTIONS OF A BACHELOR.

Once in a while two people stay married because they love each other. It is awful hard to believe all the things you want your children to. There is always some part of a woman's figure that she feels is a great credit to her. A man has to love a girl an awful lot to think that a cold in the head is becoming to her. A bachelor thinks that running an automobile is a very extravagant hobby. He tries to run a family.—New York Press.

A MERRY GATHERING.

There was a merry gathering of pretty children at the birthday party which Mrs. Walter R. Smith gave on Saturday of last week in honor of her little daughter, Dorothy. The house was beautifully decorated with blossoms and greens, red being the predominating color. Games and recitations were the afternoon's entertainment and at the table where dainty refreshments were served, Miss Dorothy presided and cut her birthday cake which held seven red candles lighted. The souvenir at each place were fancy napkins tied with red ribbon and filled with birthday candies and nuts. The little hostess received many beautiful presents from her friends. Those present were: Lucille Norris, Margaret Norris, Angeline Francis, May and Helen Porter, Anna Lowrie, Mary Mickle, Dorothy Plummer, Grace Hauch, Marjory and Edith Fair, Ina and Rilla Bell, Joseph, Allan and Walter Norris, Howard Eggers, Richard Blacoe, Benjamin Hawes, Benjamin Mickle, Harold Bodeutsch, George Hauch, Irving and Spencer Lewis, George Wright, Louise Francis. ## Knowledge of Its Naughtiness Attracts Hundreds of Women and Girls.

NEW YORK, October 31.—George Bernard Shaw's play, "Mrs. Warren's Profession," after being practically kicked out of the theater at New Haven, opened here last night at the Garrick Theater. The attendance was limited only by the theater's capacity. The crowd in front of the theater trying to get in was so great that the police were summoned.

Orchestra seats in the hands of ticket speculators sold as high as $30 apiece. Police Commissioner McAduo, Inspector Brooks, and Assistant District Attorney Train were present, but were non-committal as to the action they would take. McAduo remarked on the unusually large number of young girls in the audience. The rest of the audience was composed principally of members of the Shaw cult and Tenderloin people.

In practically every respect Shaw's play insults common decency in nearly every way possible. It defends immorality, glorifies debauchery, besmirches the sacredness of the clergyman's calling, pictures children and parents living in calm observance of the most unholy relations, and countenances a revolting form of degeneracy by flippantly discussing the marriage of brother and sister, father and daughter.

Nearly all the morning papers devote two columns to denouncing the play, and the theater's press agent is receiving congratulations. The manager of the theater expects arrest today and has bail ready. Tickets are being sold four weeks in advance.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

NEW YORK, October 31.—Today's press comment upon George Bernard Shaw's play, "Mrs. Warren's Profession," while not denying the brilliancy of the author and the competency of the Arnold Daly cast, is not flattering to the production. Of the propriety of the play, the critics say:

WORLD—Arnold Daly not only belittled his pretentious claim of being an artist, but committed a gross public breach of good taste, good manners and good morals by presenting last night at the Garrick Theater that most unpleasant of plays unpleasant, that most designedly and uselessly prudent comedy in all contemporary dramatic literature—"Mrs. Warren's Profession."

FETID REHEATRAL.

Mr. Daly did not have all the courage of his pretended convictions. Heretofore he has acted Shaw without cutting the text. Last night throughout Mrs. Warren's feid rehearsal of her life of professional prostitution some of the boldest of the dialogue was not spoken. The cutting, however, was immaterial. What Mr. Daly was afraid to convey in spoken words he was willing to allow his audience to receive by intimation, and it was so direct that a child could have avoided understanding it.

IT'S DECAYING.

TIME—Arnold Daly has made a serious mistake. "Mrs. Warren's Profession," as an acted play, bears about the same relation to the drama that the post mortem bears to the science of which it is a part. Mr. Shaw takes a subject, decaying and reeking and analyzes it for the edification of those whose unhealthy tastes find satisfaction in morbid suggestion.

As a play to be read by a limited number of persons capable of understanding its significance, of estimating Mr. Shaw and his themes at their full value, and of discounting them through their personal knowledge of the life he seeks to portray, it undoubtedly has a place. But as a play to be acted before a miscellaneous assemblage it cannot be accepted.

IMMORAL FOLK.

PRESS—Mr. Shaw has given a question to playgoers wider than the average question usually passed upon by the theatrical reporter. All that may be done in this instance is to give a glimpse of Shaw shaking hands with immoral folk. And, mark you, it will be only a glimpse, for most of the meat served in the Garrick Theater last night would smell like carrion spread on the pages of a newspaper. The simple fact is that portions of "Mrs. Warren's Profession" are so foul that they cannot be put before newspaper readers. This makes the issue pretty plain, but what has the public to say about it?

UNPLEASANT.

TELEGRAPH—Sunday and Monday Arnold Daly, with some assistance, put in his time editing the play, and it was somewhat expurgated when we saw it last night. In whatever shape it is, however, "Mrs. Warren's Profession" deals with an unpleasant topic.

EXPECTATIONS.

SUN—The tedious, inevitable question. Should the performance be allowed? Morality, it is said, is a matter of geography. But boundaries shift rapidly. By all Victorian standards, the piece is impossible. Yet such a play was not dreamed of in the philosophy of the past generation. Certainly there is nothing in the law as lately quoted to warrant its suppression. It does not "outrage" any decent "decency" nor any humane "humanity." The worst thing that members of the First Christian Church are planning. The affair will take place in the parlors of the Glenwood Hotel on Washington street, and each guest will be expected to donate a dime for the ladies' aid for the pleasure of listening to the program, which will include a dramatic reading by Miss Ida Hayden; a piano solo by Hale M. Shields; flute solo by Howard M. Taylor; contralto song by Miss May Wood; selections by mandolin and guitar trio, Victor Wells, Victor Neston and Camille Calton; a piano solo by Dalton McLeod.

WEDDING CARDS.

Cards are out announcing the marriage of Miss Jean Dorach of Alameda and Charles Harlow of Quincy, Plumas county. The ceremony took place October 10, at Quincy, and the announcement came as a surprise to the many friends of the charming bride.

Mr. Harlow is a prominent merchant of Quincy, where the newly wedded couple will make their home. At present they are enjoying a honeymoon trip through Southern California. On the way to their Northern home they will spend a couple of days in Alameda and it is planned by the bride's friends to tender her a reception at that time.

AT LUNCHEON.

Mrs. Harold Havens was hostess today at a delightful luncheon complimentary to her mother, Mrs. John Vance Cheney, who is visiting here. The affair was quite elaborate, and covers were laid for twelve. Mrs. Cheney will again be the honored guest at a reception to be given Friday by Mrs. Frank C. Havens at her home in Piedmont.

AT DINNER.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Buckleton entertained a score of guests last evening at an elaborate dinner given at the Claremont Country Club. Those who enjoyed the affair were Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lacy Brayton, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Folger, Mr. and Mrs. Horry Meek, Mr. and Mrs. Von Loben Sels, Mr. and Mrs. William S. Goodfellow, Mr. and Mrs. George Sterett Wheaton, Mr. and Mrs. George W. McNear Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Harvey East Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Will Cullen, General and Mrs. Frederick Funston, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Knowles and Mr. and Mrs. William Angus.

HONORED GUEST.

Miss Edith Downing, whose marriage to Dr. Benjamin J. Edgar takes place Tuesday, November 21, is one of the most popular brides of the month. Miss Helene Robson will be hostess at a luncheon to be given at the Palace on Thursday, November 2, for Miss Downing and Miss Kathleen Finnegan, who is to be one of the debutantes of the winter, will give a lunch-about it is the atmosphere of salacious expectation which the self-appointed moralists have conjured out of nothing. It is revolting in theme and unhuman in treatment; but what's the use?—as the wood pussy remarked to the automobile. New York is already on speaking terms with the unspeakable. The polecat is out of the bag.

NECESSARY?

AMERICAN—"Mrs. Warren's Profession" is an intellectual and necessary, but cold-blooded discussion of a pestilential issue. It is an effort to set before unthinking men and women, by means of the footlights, the putrefaction of social life. It is illuminated gangrene; it is the separation of a plague spot; it is undoubtedly a true picture, but it is the sort of picture that few want to look at, and that many should not be allowed to look at, on the stage.

IT'S RIBALD.

TRIBUNE—It is an effort to decency and a blot on the theater. That the play before a properly selected audience might be productive of other things than ill-timed laughter and ribald suggestion is another question which need not be discussed here. Such an audience under present conditions cannot be assembled. Mr. Daly owes it to his profession and the public to remove the drama from the boards.

LID LIFTED.

HERALD—The "lid" was lifted by Mr. Arnold Daly and "the limit" of stage indecency reached last night in the Garrick Theater in the performance of George Bernard Shaw's "Mrs. Warren's Profession." The whole story of the play, the atmosphere surrounding it, the incidents, the personalities of the characters are wholly immoral and degenerate. The only way successfully to expurgate "Mrs. Warren's Profession" is to cut the whole play out. You cannot have a clean big sty. The play is an insult to decency because it defends immorality.

It glorifies debauchery. It besmirches the sacredness of a clergyman's calling.

She was quite unaware that she had been playing for money, and was horrified at the idea of having to ask her husband for the amount. With many tears she confessed her woes to him, and he immediately sent off a check for $120 to the hostess. The hostess replied, saying that he had made a mistake, and had sent her too much. He wrote back, telling her that the balance was for his wife's lunch.

HAPPENINGS IN THE WORLD OF SPORTS REPORTED BY TRIBUNE EXPERTS

HANLON AND HERRERA IN FINE CONDITION FOR THEIR CONTEST

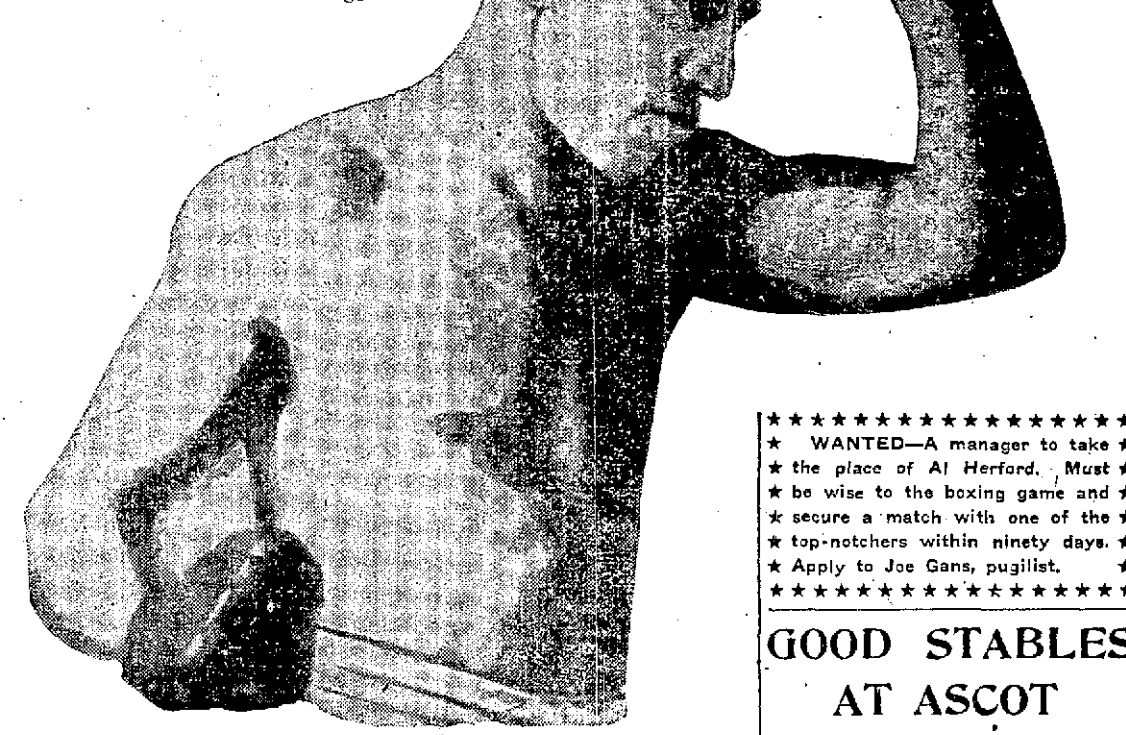

LOS ANGELES, October 31.—Public opinion is very evenly divided on the Hanlon-Herrera fight. A number of followers of the game think that it will be a very hard one. They point out the fact that Herrera is a very hard man to hurt and believe that his terrific bombardment of Herrera's midsection will make the Mexican slow down to a walk. But just as many pick Herrera to win, and win inside of ten rounds. They point out that the Mexican is training well for this fight, and that is something which he has not always done. In condition, there can be no question about Herrera's ability as a fighter, and he is in condition now and will be at his best on the night of the fight. His admirers call attention to his cleverness and his undependable punch. It will be recalled that Herrera had Terry McGovern staggering when the Mexican met the champion in San Francisco. He landed that terrific punch and for a few seconds he had Terry weaving about the ring, but the Brooklynite came back with a shower of punches and Herrera went to the mat.

PAST FIGHT. One thing is sure—it will be a lightning-fast fight and no openings will be overlooked on either side. Hanlon is now in first-class condition and he trains under the eagle eye of Spider Kelly and Frank McDonald. Both of these men know their business, and they will send the little San Franciscan into the ring in shape to put up the best fight that is in him. Sol Levinson has Herrera in charge and there are few things about the fighting game which are not known to Sol, the veteran glove-maker. He has taken big man to the beach and he trains him in the ocean. Sea air and the ocean bathing are great things for a man in training, and there will be no advantage in either camp when it comes to perfect condition. Word comes from San Diego that several hundred dollars have already been wagered on the outcome of the contest, with the odds 10 to 9, Hanlon the favorite. Los Angeles is not much of a betting town, when it comes to the fighting game. In San Francisco on the eve of

BASEMAN FOR WADDELL PUTS UP JOB ON TEAM

ROCK ISLAND, Oct. 31.—Morris (Pete) Lister, the first baseman whom the Portland club has purchased from Rock Island, has been the giant of the Rock Island "Three-Eyes" team for the past three years. He is six feet one in height, weighs 190 pounds, is 23 years old and is considered a corner in Three-Eye circles. He tosses the ball right handed but bats left handed, and is one of the hardest hitters on the circuit. His specialty is line drives from right foul line or over the head of the fielder. He has an unusual number of extra base hits to his credit. At the same time, he is a scientific bunter, and can be relied upon to advance his man.

In the field he covers lots of ground and gets everything that comes his way, and is a reliable catcher. He has played that position two seasons, being stationed at second the first season with Rock Island. He played second with the Clinton, Ia., Independents, with whom he had his first professional experience, and from which place he came to this city in 1903. The official records of the league this season show Lister played 116 games, making 1092 putouts, 73 assists, 34 errors, his fielding percentage being .972. He had 437 at bats, made 57 runs, 114 hits for 156 bases, sacrificed 17 times and stole 14 bases, having a batting average of .260.

SIXTEENTH IN LEAGUE. Last year Lister batted but a few points under the .300 mark, but this year the blitting of the heaviest sticks in the league fell off, there being but one of the veterans who hit over .300, and his mark was .307. Lister stood sixteenth among the players who were in the league throughout the season. "Pete" as he is generally known, is one of the best "rollers" in this league has produced. He is always found doing his level best and encouraging his teammates to do likewise. He succeeded Jack Sweeney as field captain this season when the latter joined Portland, and was a success.

At the close of the season he was married, his bride being Miss Minnie Thorne, daughter of a Rock Island policeman and for some years a popular employe in the head offices of the Modern Woodmen. They are spending the winter at Clinton. In which vicinity Lister was reared. Pete is a fireman by occupation, when not playing ball.

CENTURY CLUB WINNER OF GAME

In a football game Saturday the Century Athletic Club defeated the Van Der Naillen aggregation to the tune of 32-0. The city school was entirely outclassed. Their line could not stand against the bucks of Hunter, full, and Eschleman, left half, who went through it as though it were paper, and Thorne, right half, who gained from fifteen to thirty yards on end runs every time he took the ball. Molly, for the Century, plays a good game at quarter and handles his men with good judgment.

DETROIT, Oct. 31.—"Think Ruben Waddell's crazy, eh? Well, you've got another think," said "Billy" Rooks of the Utopia buffet. "He's the wisest crazy man you ever saw."

"When they were on the other trip he came up here to my place and said: 'Bill, let me take $2.' I was just starting in, and wasn't long on change right then, so I told him I couldn't afford it, but he kept coaxing and I kissed the two girls."

"An hour later back came 'Rube' and he asked for $3 more. I told him I wouldn't do it, and he finally took off that watch chain which he got for playing with the 1902 pennant winners, and throwing it on the bar, said, 'I guess that's worth the five all right.'"

"I let him take it and before the night was over he touched me for $5 more, making $10 that he was into me, but the charm was worth enough to make up for it."

"Then next day he didn't pitch, but had on his street clothes, and that night he was talking to Connie Mack in front of the hotel when Mack noticed that the charm was gone and asked about it. I lost it at the park, said Waddell. 'As I was going through the gate I felt something pull, and when I looked it was gone. We all tried to find it, but somebody must have stuck it in his pocket.'"

"Connie told the 'Rube' to hurry over to a newspaper office and have a notice put in with the reward of $10 for the charm, which he did, and then he came up to my place and said: 'you send your bartender down to Connie in the morning and tell him he found the charm in the park. He'll give you your $10 back, and I'll have the charm and we'll quit even.'"

"I sent the boy down and Connie was tickled to give him the $10, and I was glad to get it. Crazy, eh? He's a long ways from being crazy."

And now it is said that Christy Mathewson, the premier pitcher of the year and the bright particular star of the New York Nationals, is figuring on going on the stage and in all probability shortly be seen in vaudeville. Old-timers will watch with interest the result of Mathewson's stage experiment with more than passing interest. Baseball as a theatrical offering has never proved a success. In the past, the late Charles Hoyt once wrote a remarkable bright play with baseball as the theme, and engaged Captain Anson, who at that time had just won a pennant for the Chicago fans, to play the leading part. But both the play and the star proved a "frost." Later on Arlie Latham, then one of the most popular ball players in the country, attempted to "evict" the stage by the baseball method, but he also failed. Now comes Christy Mathewson. It is a fact, however, that wise theatrical people always contend that some day some play-wright will turn out a baseball play that will make the biggest kind of a hit with the populace.

GOOD STABLES AT ASCOT PARK

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 31.—The many stables at Ascot Park are rapidly filling up and after the arrival of the special train of six cars of racers from New York it will be difficult to secure stable room at the local track.

A number of stables have arrived during the past week from the East and North, and each morning the track is alive with galloping horses. The officials for the season will be arriving shortly, Edward Jasper, the popular handicapper, being the only one here thus far.

There are many familiar faces of Jockeys, owners and bookmakers seen along the Riato, and the number will increase each week until the gates open for the Jonathan Club Handicap, on the opening day, November 30th. Manager Brooks is enthusiastic over the outlook and is confident the meeting this winter will far surpass anything the Coast has yet seen in the running game. The stakes are all well filled and the overnight events will be of much better class than last year.

Among the latest arrivals are John Gurthey, with Ethel Scruggs, Merwin, Elfin King and Golden Buck. Jockey Powell came with the stable and will do most of the riding. Elfin King is in better shape than ever before.

B. B. Allen will race from Detroit. He has Old Mike, Marshall Ney, Varsity, Anti-Trust and Mauser, the winner of the Bush Cup at New Orleans last winter. He also has Hot, which has been running neck and neck with Kiss all summer.

B. B. Allen will race Myrtle White, Marie Honk, Dr. Crook, Marie Fisher and Al Smith has Orchan, Eggsneil and Cop the Dough.

"Early" Wright, of New York, will race a stable of good ones. He has Blossie, Debra, the fishman, Sweetheart, Bellatrix, Lillie B. Chancellor, Walworth, Waterwagon, Vanim and two yearlings.

J. C. Gho, one of the stewards of the St. Louis Jockey Club and a wealthy owner, will be another prominent figure at the track this winter. He will race such as Imported Secret, Condee and Entre Vous.

L. A. Bousack was among the first to arrive this season and his table will be in good shape after a long rest. His best is High Chancellor. Others are Judge Denton, Hilona, Collillon, Kavanagh, Del Coronado and Le Claire. Race followers know the last-named horse as Blissful, but she had never been registered and Bousack changed the name.

BERKELEY FOOTBALL MEN WERE NEVER IN BETTER CONDITION

BERKELEY, October 31.—After the strenuous work of last Saturday the Varsity spent the afternoon yesterday in very light work. After their individual pictures had been snapped for the 1907 Blue and Gold, they spent the time in punting and running through fast plays. The men who went through the gruelling fight of Saturday ran around the field and the second eleven and other candidates tried at place kicks, running through signals and bucking the straps.

Booth, who has been of hard practice work for some time, is out on the field and there is but one game between it may not be out of place to look at the physical condition of the men who are in the lead in the race for the different places on the team that is to trot out on the field against Stanford at Palo Alto on November 11th. The contest with Nevada scheduled for next Saturday is the only chance for injuring the team.

There is not a man on the squad who would not be in the physical condition to enter the Varsity game tomorrow, with the possible exception of Booth. All of the injuries of the year have been taken care of and mended. And in looking back upon the season it is safe to say that there have been less serious injuries than on any other previous season. Not for a number of years has been compelled to leave the field permanently for the year. There have been a few sprained ankles but most of these have been recovered by the men who were trying for the freshman team. It is hoped that the team will finish the game Saturday without having to mar the good record and without having to go into the contest with Stanford with Stanford with some good man of the team out on account of his injuries.

MANY CANDIDATES. Gray who was stunned in Saturday's game by a blow on the head has entirely recovered and was out again last night in good shape. Tuller has almost recovered from the injury received a few weeks before the freshman game. He is now trying for full-back on the Varsity. He has not been in any of the games as yet and there is no way of judging what kind of a game he will be in shape to play by the time of the Varsity game if it should be found necessary to turn upon him. Sperry and Wharton will both be in condition for the contest.

After the game put up by the Stanford team in Los Angeles last Saturday against the Sherman Braves and the showing made against them by the red men the Los Angeles Times says: BERKELEY'S CHANGES.

"Consensus of opinion is that Stanford is up against it this year in meeting Berkeley. The men are lighter; they do not seem to be in as good shape at present, but that may be a necessity in the time that is left. In team work Stanford yesterday was not very impressive; there was room for vast improvement. Coach Lannigan, who by the way, showed himself to be a square sportsman in conceding doubtful points, will put in some hard work in the interim but on yesterday's showing it is hard to credit greater strength to Stanford than to the Sherman. Indians and the fate of the Redskins in Berkeley's hands is still fresh in the public memory."

"Stanford made more changes than the Indians and toward the last began to lose speed. In point of interest the game was better than that of a week scheduled as an exhibition of the best there is in coast football, the previous Berkeley game must be given the palm."

PUNTING CONTEST. The punting contest for the Varsity squad will be held on Monday afternoon. The winner will have his name engraved on the Robert Rode punting cup now on exhibition in the Co-op. It will be open to all of the members of the varsity squad but it is understood that the number who will try out will not be more than eight or ten. Under the rules of the athletic editors of the different college papers and others will be chosen by team.

There will be a baseball game on the campus grounds between the College of Mining team and the aggregation of ball players representing the Daily Californian on Thursday. The members of the journalistic team are requested to be sure and show up. Th Miners have been on the ground for one game scheduled between these teams and the other team was nowhere to be seen. They put the time in at practice and are now ready to play anything in the shape of a baseball team.

RECORD BREAKING ENTRY LIST AT OAKLAND TRACK

The California Jockey Club has the biggest entry list ever received in the history of the association for one of its stake events this coming season. Over 155 nominations have been made for the Andrew Stake. The best previous record was 148, made in 1904, for this stake, which is at the very popular distance of six and one-half furlongs.

It is not unlikely that the Burns handicap will also have a record list. One hundred and thirty-four was the count yesterday afternoon, and there is a chance of one or two additional entries by this morning's mail. Last year the Burns had 104 entries. It was predicted that the Burns would this year receive at least 130 entries, while the Andrew stake estimate was placed at 150. As a matter of fact, the stakes have filled in nearly every instance run better than the Jockey Club expected.

Claude recently ran away three miles while being exercised at Latonia track. There were only twelve bookmakers out in last week at Latonia. Cahill is credited with winning transportation for his stable to San Francisco on the win of Sir Tristram.

SPECULATING ON PENNANT WINNER

Baseball fans are doing a great deal of speculating these days. Los Angeles, Oakland and San Francisco, the three leaders in the race for the last half, are all bunched at present, and an unusually close finish is expected. Los Angeles is two games in the lead of Oakland and three of San Francisco. The citrus-belt team is liable to take a bigger lead this week, as it hooks up with the crippled Portland team. The latter club is in very bad condition at present; McCredie went south minus McLean and Cates. McLean is dangerously ill in this city with heart trouble, while Cates, one of the pitching staff, was called East on account of the serious illness of his child. Bert Jones has also had his request granted to lay off the balance of the season on account of a bad arm. It looks as if the Angels, who are playing championship ball at present, should further increase their lead, but the season does not close until December 3d, so Oakland and San Francisco have both a great chance.

By a peculiar combination of circumstances the three leaders will play on their own grounds for the balance of the season. Manager Harris states that the Seals are in grand form at the present time, and, barring accidents, will make a great bid. Hitt is pitching in wonderfully good form, and the team promises to make as exciting a finish as in the first half. Los Angeles has had a phenomenal streak, beating Tacoma twelve out of thirteen games, being a grand achievement. This unexpected feat placed Los Angeles in the lead, and though Tacoma won the first half and Los Angeles leads in the second, the San Francisco team has won the most games since the season began. The split season has worked to the Seals' disadvantage, but it helps out the Esplanade.

Manager Fisher says that, if Los Angeles wins the last half, the first four games for the championship will be played at Los Angeles and the remainder in San Francisco. If San Francisco finishes first in the second half, all the championship games will be played in this city. Bakersfield is to be treated to a league game next Monday, when Tacoma, on its way south, will try conclusions with Portland on its way north.

Information Wanted. "Here," cried Tommy's father, "what are you doing at that bookcase?" "Why," replied Tommy, "I just want to see that United States history."

"What for?" "Why, Johnny Jones sez Christie Mathewson pitched fur de Chicagoos last year, an' I want ter see if he did."

TACOMA WILL BE OUT OF LEAGUE

Tacoma will not make application for a franchise in the Coast League for next season, consequently there is a scramble for the vacant place. There will be at least six applications at the annual meeting in December. A delegation of Fresno patrons of the national game was in the city yesterday. They claim that the citizens of Presnott will subscribe a sufficient sum to maintain a cricket team at that point. The Chamber of Commerce promises to lend its aid, so that the Raisin City can be relied upon to make a big bid. Spokane, Sacramento, Stockton and San Jose will also make propositions to enter the league. The big jump is against Spokane being included in the league, although that town would doubtless turn out the biggest crowds.

B. H. S. TEAM TO MEET A. H. S.

ALAMEDA, October 31.—The Alameda High School football team is to meet the team from the Berkeley High on next Saturday afternoon for the sub-league championship of this side of the bay. Alameda has played both Oakland and Berkeley the games and the contest of next Saturday promises to be a lively one, owing to the stress of the season and the rivalry existing between the schools.

GIANTS MAY PLAY BALL HERE

The baseball fans of this coast may be lucky enough to see the New York Giants here next spring. Mc Graw instructed Manager Harris of the San Francisco club to find out whether he could secure suitable training quarters for the champions near Los Angeles. Harris has written McGraw, and expects an answer in the course of a day or two. If the Giants train at Los Angeles they will play a series of games at Recreation Park, San Francisco, before leaving for the East.

Joe Nealon, the young first baseman of the San Francisco team, has probably received more offers than any young player that ever broke into baseball. Pittsburgh, New York, Cincinnati, Detroit, and Boston would all like to have Nealon for next season. Taylor of Boston has a standing offer of $5000. Clarke will be out here next week in the interest of Pittsburgh. Cincinnati wants Nealon so badly that the Californian can practically make his own terms.

TIGERS TEAM CLAW OUT GAME

The Tigers met and defeated the Farrelton last Sunday morning at Alameda by the score of 12 to 0. Johnson and Kinkner were the battery for the winning team. Johnson pitched a fine game, allowing but five hits, one walk and struck out ten men.

Several of the local sports, who have been doing the northern circuit with their horses, are expected to arrive from Idaho daily. Among these are Paul Roberts, Barney Flaherty and William Kane, the latter known in private life as "Mister Billy." They will bring with them a horse named Heels and Rough Rider, which they will start at Emeryville. In a recent letter from Lewiston, Idaho, "Mister Billy" writes:

"This is the limit—racing for $200 purses, $35 to the winner. About ten people come out to the track and they, like the weather, are cold as—"

MAC HAS NEW PITCHER IN BOND

Bond, a young pitcher of Grand Point, in the Northern League, who fielded .558 and batted .310, will be among the new pitchers McCredie will try for the Portland club next season.

"Mac" got wind of the new man through a friend of his, and after looking over the records for the season just closed, concluded it would be worth while to give Bond a trial. According to the odds, he won nine games and lost four, giving him a percentage of .692. He fielded .966, which is close to a perfect record, and in the 80 times he was at bat made 14 runs and 24 hits, which gives him an average of .310 for his stickwork.

A. J. PILLBURY WRITES ABOUT THE DEPENDENT CHILD.

BY A. J. PILLBURY.

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 20. At the National conference of Charities and Corrections held at Portland, Oregon, last summer, New York shared generously with California in sustaining the hearty disapproval of experts touching the care and treatment of dependent children. I could not gather from the remarks made that these alleged experts knew very much about the subject, but on one point they were unequivocal: They did not like either the California or the New York policies of treating dependent childhood. If New York and California have anything in common, except this disapproval, I am at a loss to know what it is.

California handles the dependent child faultily as to detail, as I will allow, but as a State. The only children whom the State of New York directly befriends are those who have no residence in any county, town or city for sixty days prior to the occurrence of the fact of dependency, but California, all orphans, half orphans and abandoned children are directly wards of the State.

HOME FINDING WORK. In most counties in New York, each township is responsible for its own dependent children and the town overseer of the poor must have them cared for. In some counties the care of the poor is a county concern, in which case the county superintendent of the poor, an elected officer, is responsible and must see that such children are cared for. In the case of cities, the city superintendent performs that task. All of these are agents for home finding and untidely place in homes, as own children, about 4,000 little people a year, not quite enough, however, to keep pace with the supply for dependent childhood is on the increase in New York.

The greater number of dependent children are boarded in about 125 orphanages belonging to charitable organizations, the counties, towns or cities (and the State in a few cases) paying their board at the rate of $1.75 per week according to quality of accommodations and the sort of contract that can be made in each case.

For the year ending September 30, 1904, the people of the State of New York paid for the support of 30,170 dependent children, either in orphanages, city or State (and it made little difference to them which budget the percentage was figured in) the sum of $4,106,452.37. Upon reflection, it is not quite clear that all of this came out of the taxes. Some part may have been contributed by charity, but in addition to this the orphanages expended $1,653,434.99 for buildings, improvements and other charges.

New York State possesses, in the care of dependent children, certain advantages over California, that are worthy of note. It allows and requires the State Board of Charities, through its agents, to inspect all orphanages receiving and caring for children, and all homes in which children have been placed either at board or by indenture or adoption. There are seven of these paid inspectors and they visit all such institutions two or three times a year, and suspected or delinquent ones much oftener. Besides these, the local overseers of the poor, running up to hundreds, must look out for the care of children in their respective districts, so that first and last dependent children are pretty well looked out for in the State of New York. The law forbids the payment of any money to any institution caring for dependent children unless such institution obeys rules laid down by the State Board of Charities and Corrections, so that recommendations made are speedily heeded.

DEFECTS OF THE SYSTEM. There are some deficiencies in the New York system. Local communities often concern themselves more with the item of cost than with the welfare of the children. Overseers of the poor are elected each two years and there is much rotation in office, so that green officials are constantly called upon to deal with problems that require experience if not expert knowledge. Finally, the most serious objection is one to which I have called attention before, as a matter of common sense, if not of universal experience, the widow who cannot support her children must see them placed beyond her control for no other reason than that she has fallen into poverty. Her children are given to whomsoever is reputable and will take them.

THE CALIFORNIA IDEA. The California system needs a better administration, but it is, at all events, humane and does not add to the affliction of poverty the further infliction of an enforced and permanent separation of parent and child. One other lesson California may well learn from New York and it is that no transient charge upon the public treasury as dependent until the fact of dependency has been established either judicially, by action before a justice of the peace, or officially, by investigation of an overseer or superintendent of the poor. A proper system of determining the fact of dependency would, in California, I feel sure, save the taxpayers $75,000.00 to $100,000.00 a year, and its attainment should be a matter of no great difficulty. The next legislature should consider it.

MAN'S STRANGE RECORD OF FUN AND DEATH

Unkempt "Hermit of Red Mountain" Writes of His Journey to the Grave.

BY ALICE G. ECCLES.

(Written for THE TRIBUNE.)

Every man who has been on a deer hunt in Mendocino County knows the deserted cabin of Charles Foster, the "Hermit of Red Mountain." A few years ago the unkempt old fellow was a familiar figure to hunters, and interested and curious in the strange hermit was increased shortly before his death, when the old man began to dig his own grave near the cabin where he had lived for twenty years.

Charles Foster had a gruff word of welcome for the hunter who visited him, but conversation for none, and on July 28, 1905, he was found dead in the cabin and close beside him a score of small memorandum books containing a daily journal of the old man's solitary life on the mountain.

Many of the books, page after page contain nothing but a faithful record of the weather on the mountain, and a seasonal sheep, the property of some neighbor which had strayed upon his domain. On January 18, 1900, Foster began the clearing for his grave, and he makes the following entry:

THE FIRST ENTRY.

"J. H. BRADEN, Justice of the Peace (Acting as Coroner.)"

WOMAN SUBMITS TO ARREST TO HIDE THE FACT FROM PARENTS.

RUNAWAY GIRL MARRIED
NEW YORK, October 31.—Cupid was a victor in the West Side Court yesterday afternoon, when both complainant and defendant—and, in fact, all the relatives and friends of Mrs. Christopher G. Cosmides—kissed the bride and wished her a long life of happiness.

Mrs. Jessie M. Graeffe of No. 50 West Sixty-ninth street, who had been arrested on a technical charge of disorderly conduct, but really charged in the complaint of William H. Ansted, the father of Mrs. Cosmides, with detaining his daughter in her home, was discharged and the complaint dismissed.

The bride, Mrs. Graeffe, had submitted to arrest in order to give her girl friend a chance to be married without parental interference.

Mrs. Cosmides, who is a beautiful girl of nineteen years, came to New York a week ago last Saturday and rented a small apartment on Fourteenth street.

On Tuesday she sought shelter with Mrs. Graeffe, who had been an old-time neighbor of the family in Savannah, Georgia, and told her she was afraid that her father would insist upon her returning home, and that she had tired of her boarding place and wanted a place to stay.

ENTER CUPID—AT A GALLOP.
In the same home lived Christopher G. Cosmides, an importer, who met Miss Ansted on the evening of her arrival, and he declares it was a case of love at first sight.

A week's assiduous courtship resulted in a marriage on Monday night in the Church of the Ascension.

Yesterday, when all parties to the case appeared in court, the lawyer for the plaintiff asserted that the girl had been sent away from her home by her father. She shook her head ominously at this statement, and after the facts had been made clear to the court, the magistrate said:

"This is a case where there seems to have been sufficient cause to issue a warrant, but inasmuch as she seems to have been a happy termination, probably to the best interest of the young lady, I deem that all parties to the case will be agreeable to a dismissal of the technical charge."

WOMAN'S GENTLE NATURE CALLS FOR GENTLE TREATMENT

Delicately formed and gently reared, women will find, in all the seasons of their lives, as maidens, wives, or mothers, that the one simple, wholesome remedy which acts gently and pleasantly and naturally, and which may be used with truly beneficial effects, under any conditions, when the system needs a laxative, is—Syrup of Figs. It is well known to be a simple combination of the laxative and carminative principles of plants with pleasant, aromatic liquids, which are agreeable and refreshing to the taste and acceptable to the system when its gentle cleansing is desired.

Many of the ills from which women suffer are of a transient nature and do not come from any organic trouble and it is pleasant to know that they yield so promptly to the beneficial effects of Syrup of Figs, but when anything more than a laxative is needed it is best to consult the family physician and to avoid the old-time cathartics and loudly advertised nostrums of the present day. When one needs only to remove the strain, the torpor, the congestion, or similar ills, which attend upon a constipated condition of the system, use the true and gentle remedy—Syrup of Figs—and enjoy freedom from the depression, the aches and pains, colds and headaches, which are due to inactivity of the bowels.

Only those who buy the genuine Syrup of Figs can hope to get its beneficial effects and as a guarantee of the excellence of the remedy the full name of the company—California Fig Syrup Co.—is printed on the front of every package and without it any preparation offered as Syrup of Figs is fraudulent and should be declined. To those who know the quality of this excellent laxative, the offer of any substitute, when Syrup of Figs is called for, is always resented by a transfer of patronage to some first-class drug establishment, where they do not recommend, nor sell false brands, nor imitation remedies. The genuine article may be bought of all reliable druggists everywhere at 50 cents per bottle.

GIRL LEFT HOME IN ANGER.
The father says that his daughter refused to help in packing the household effects at White Plains, preparatory to moving to New York for the winter, and that in a fit of anger, she said she was going to New York to stay with a friend all the family arrived. He says he gave her $7.50 and told her to call at his office the following Monday morning. She did not call.

The Ansted, searching for apartments in the neighborhood of Mrs. Graeffe's home, called on her and found their daughter. All inducements to return proved fruitless, and the father and stepmother left in sorrow.

Monday night a warrant was served on Mrs. Graeffe, but as she says, she "was sparring for time, as the wedding was being already arranged."

An elaborate wedding feast will be spread within the next few days to celebrate the marriage of Mrs. Graeffe's house. Cosmides is an intimate friend of the Greek Consul at this port, and his business prospects are bright.

Mrs. Ansted, the mother of the bride, who had made a will leaving an estate valued at $50,000 to her stepdaughter, is much grieved at the hasty marriage, and vows the will shall be destroyed. She admits Mr. Cosmides insisted to her that he did not love his bride for her $50,000 or her prospective jewels, but for herself alone, but she asserts the girl is all she will ever get.

GOLD BRICKS IN THE RETURNS FROM TOUR OF MINING BUILDING HOLY LAND

Interesting Features of Imposing Structure on the University Campus

BERKELEY, October 31.—A prominent feature of the Hearst Memorial Mining Building, which is slowly nearing completion, will be the Museum of Mining and Metallurgy. This will not be a collection of minerals, ores and rocks, such as is already provided for in the museum of mineralogy and geology, but will contain collections of models of mines, showing the form of deposits, the relation to the country rocks, and the methods of working the mines. A large number of these models are already in the possession of the mining department, having been portions of the official exhibits in some of the most celebrated cases which have appeared before the United States courts.

In addition it will contain models of mining and metallurgical machinery, and of furnaces. It will also contain collections showing the various products of mines, from the raw ore as it issues from the mine, through the various products arranged so as to illustrate the whole method of treatment.

Gifts are coming in from time to time, which will be stored until the museum is ready for occupancy.

Professor Christy has just received a letter from the management of the Alaska Treadwell Gold Mining Company, which offers to donate the exhibit of the Alaska Treadwell Mining Company which was at the St. Louis and Portland Exposition to the new Hearst Mining Museum.

This exhibit attracted a good deal of attention at both of the fairs, and has been earnestly sought for by the different chambers of commerce as a portion of their exhibits. It consists of a series of models showing the actual size of the gold bricks produced at the Alaska Treadwell mine for each year since it was opened, up to and including the year 1904. These bricks are all gilded with gold and have printed upon them the product for each year.

Another of the interesting gifts to this museum was made some time ago by Mrs. Phoebe A. Hearst. This consists of two large columns each made up of six large blocks of ore cut from the various working levels of the Homestake mine in South Dakota. These blocks are dressed on three faces, and are left rough on the other face and have cut upon them the places from which they were taken in the mine. The first column represents the ore from the "open cut," from the 100, 200, 300, 400, and 500-foot levels of the mine. The other column has ore from the 600, 700, 800, 900, 1000, and 1100-foot levels. These blocks of rock are masses of the country rock which has evidently been fractured and re-composed with quartz, making of each block a solid mass of gold-bearing ore. This will remain an interesting and permanent exhibit long after this great mine is worked out.

These gifts from Homestake and Treadwell mines are interesting as coming from the two most remarkable mines of low grade gold ores in the world. The ore from these two mines runs from only two to four dollars per ton, and yet, owing to the great size of the deposits, and the skill with which they have been worked, they have yielded large fortunes to their owners.

Among those who have contributed to the success of these mines, are several California graduates. At the Alaska Treadwell mine, Frederick W. Bradley, '86, (mining) is general manager, and Robert A. Kinzie, '97, (mechanics) is superintendent; at the Homestake mine, Charles W. Merrill of the class of '91, (mining) served and made a success of the large cyanide plant there, after several Eastern experts reported that the ore could not be successfully worked by that process.

Pioneer Minister of Berkeley Tells of Experiences While in the Orient

BERKELEY, Oct. 31.—Rev. H. H. Dobbins, who was one of the first ministers to preach in Berkeley, has just returned home from a ten months' tour of the holy lands and the historic cities of the Mediterranean Sea. The following interesting account of his travels is given by Rev. Dobbins:

"We left early in January for New York and had a very pleasant trip through the South, then after spending a week in Washington, D. C., we went to New York from where we sailed February 2 on the Arabic, which was to make a seventy days' tour of the Mediterranean.

"Our first stopping place was the city of Funchal in the Madeira group. From there we sailed to Cadiz, Spain, and visited some of the famous castles in this and other Spanish cities. After seeing Gibraltar, Algiers and Malta we landed at Athens, where we spent several days renewing our acquaintance with the ancients. I was much pleased with Constantinople, the next place on our trip. From the Turkish capital we went direct to the holy land, where I spent thirteen days visiting Nazareth, Tiberias, Jerusalem, the Dead Sea and other points of deep Biblical interest.

"From Cairo we went to Naples and then to Rome where we spent an entire month. We saw all there was to be seen, including the Pope, whom I found to be a most kind and courteous old gentleman. It was with great regret that we left the Italian capital and sailed for Florence. After visiting Pisa and Genoa, we set sail for New York, where we arrived May 23, stopping on our way at the Azores.

"We spent five months in the great metropolis. From there, we came straight through to San Francisco and landed at Alhambra, where we spent several days renewing our acquaintance with the ancients. I was much pleased with Constantinople, the next place on our trip. From the Turkish capital we went direct to the holy land, where I spent thirteen days visiting Nazareth, Tiberias, Jerusalem, the Dead Sea and other points of deep Biblical interest.

"CO-ED" THIEF CAUGHT IN THE ACT

Freshman Girl Finds Upper-Class Woman Stealing From a Gymnasium Locker

BERKELEY, October 31.—Miss E. H. Prichard, a freshman student, had a peculiar experience with a fellow student whom she detected in the act of stealing from her gymnasium locker in Hearst Hall last week. When confronted with proof of her thievery the young woman, who is an upper class student, confessed, broke down and with dramatic sobs begged for mercy.

Miss Prichard weakened at these signs of penitence and promised to shield her. The young woman declared that it was her first offense and Miss Prichard says that she will refuse to divulge the name or take any action against her.

The case may be taken up by the undergraduate student affairs committee, which is investigating the question of student stealing in the men's and women's gymnasiums.

President Wheeler Chooses Neff for Place Citizens Urged to Join Chamber of Commerce

BERKELEY, Oct. 31.—President Wheeler has just appointed J. B. Neff, of Anaheim, as conductor of Farmers' Institutes in Southern California. Mr. Neff is a well known fruitgrower of Orange county and has been for years a leader in the local association of walnut growers and manager of the Southern California Deciduous Fruit Exchange. He has also been prominent as a speaker at Farmers' Institutes in Southern California and is thoroughly in sympathy with the University Extension in Agricultural lines and will proceed energetically in organizing meetings to be held during the coming winter and spring. Mr. Neff's residence at Anaheim will be of advantage in his work as it is a central location in a county of notable agricultural specialties, as well as generally diversified agriculture. All localities in the counties south of Tehachas mountains desiring Farmers' Institutes are invited to correspond directly with Mr. Neff.

BERKELEY, October 31.—A meeting of business men will be held this evening in the Town Hall, for the purpose of organizing the Chamber of Commerce, which will practically be a reorganization of the Board of Trade. At a recent meeting of the latter body it was decided to reorganize under the name Chamber of Commerce. This move will be made with a view to creating new interest in the body, the particular function of which is the upbuilding of the town.

It is intended to secure the services of a competent secretary, who will receive a salary to devote his entire time to the work of the new organization. It is also intended to establish quarters for the Chamber of Commerce as near the business center of town as possible, which will serve as a bureau of information for strangers and the offices of the organization.

C. S. Merrill, secretary of the Board of Trade, has issued several hundred notices of tonight's meeting, and it is desired that all of Berkeley's business men and every one interested in the plan, attend the meeting.

Debating Team to Meet the "Freshies"

BERKELEY, Oct. 31.—The Sophomores will hold their try-outs tomorrow evening in the lecture room of Stiles Hall to pick out a team to meet the freshmen in annual interclass debate on Friday evening, November 17. Colonel Edwards, Professor G. C. Noyes and J. P. Lucey Hastings, '05, will officiate as judges.

SUDDEN MARRIAGE OF AMATEUR ACTRESS

Former Alameda Girl Becomes a Bride--Encinal Notes of Interest

ALAMEDA, October 31.—The announcement of the marriage of Miss Jean Doroch to Charles Harlowe, of the home of the bride's parents in Quincy, Plumas county, has come as a pleasant surprise to the many friends of the bride in this city.

Mrs. Harlowe resided in Alameda for a number of years and was graduated from the local High School with the class of June, '04. Mrs. Harlowe was a great social favorite in Alameda, and the announcement of her marriage came as a great surprise to the members of the social set.

Mrs. Harlowe is a very beautiful young lady, as well as an accomplished amateur actress. In her graduating year she took a principal part in the class play and acquitted herself with great honor.

When she left Alameda she went to her home in Quincy. Since that time Mrs. Harlowe has held a number of visits to Alameda, but did not let any of her friends know of her proposed marriage.

After the ceremony the newly married couple left for the southern part of the State for a short honeymoon. On their return north Mr. and Mrs. Harlowe will stop in Alameda for a few days, and the friends of the bride are arranging a big reception in her honor.

The evening was spent in a good, wholesome social way with speeches for the older folk, games for the younger folk, in which their elders did not hesitate to join, and vocal and instrumental music and first-class refreshments for all.

In the speeches of good will and good wishes it was recalled that the host and his good wife, who was Miss Ida Kaizen, had changed her name and taken her position as his helpmeet at Evansville, Ind., and that for 18 years they had been in all ways worthy citizens of San Leandro, for seven years, conducting a bakery, since which Mr. Gelsenhofer has been uninterruptedly town marshal. This continued confidence and their happy family is the best evidence that they have in every way done their duty by their fellow citizens in society. There were many valuable presents to them.

Abstract—The purpose of this study was to determine if there were differences in the prevalence of musculoskeletal disorders among different types of jobs. The study included 600 employees from a large manufacturing company who had been employed for at least one year. A questionnaire was sent to each employee asking about their job title, age, sex, and whether or not they had experienced any musculoskeletal problems in the past 12 months. The results showed that the prevalence of musculoskeletal problems was highest among those who worked in jobs that required heavy lifting or repetitive motions. This suggests that certain types of jobs may be more likely to cause musculoskeletal problems than others.

SINGER'S FANCY FICKLE Love of Tetraxini Changed With the Season

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 31.—Luisa Tetraxini created as much sensation on the witness stand before Judge Lawlor yesterday as she has in opera before admiring San Francisco audiences. It was a different sort of sensation, for it sounded so queer to hear her say through the interpreter:

"Yes, Julio Rossi was my lover, but I was tired of him, and so I sent for Urburu."

It was in the second trial of Julio Ziegner Urburu, charged by the diva with feloniously embezzling many thousand francs from her while he was her confidential agent. Urburu had met her in Mexico and letters from her, signed as "Little Mamma," indicated the friendliness of their relations. She pined for him when she came to San Francisco, and Rossi nauseated her. She would make the exchange, so she told Urburu to come and to let Rossi know of his advent.

THEN ANOTHER.

This, according to the contention of the defense, went on until she tired of Urburu and sought to replace him by still another favorite. The claim of Urburu is that Tetraxini concluded the only way she could get rid of him was by charging him with a felony so that the law might help her out of her dilemma, and that that explains why he is now in jail and has been there for several months.

The money which he is alleged to have embezzled was that which she had given him to send to pay her dressmakers in Milan, and she asserts that he not only failed to send the money, but that in addition to pocketing it himself, he deceived her by showing her bills of exchange which purported that the amounts had been sent as she desired.

One of the witnesses yesterday was a bank clerk, who testified that Urburu bought bills of exchange on Paris for the amount of 20,000 francs and took the balance of the drafts, amounting to as much more, in cash. This, it is claimed, was his procedure in each case, and it is alleged that he added several thousand dollars to his bank account by this method of embezzlement.

LUCKY ONE HAPPY.

He looked respondent yesterday while Tetraxini was on the witness stand, but quite the opposite was Bazzoli, his successful rival and the present tenor of Tetraxini, whose look of self-satisfaction made the gloom which enshrouded Urburu all the deeper. The by-play of the prima donna's eyes as her glance shot past the defendant to his supplanter did not tend to cheer the man from the Latin-American republics, and altogether he found but little to save his wounded spirit, either in her tones or her manner. In fact, he realized as never before that all that could save him was the attorney who was pleading his case, that the complainant was not in a mood to relent in his favor and to restore him again to the warmth of her smiles.

The case will go on in the morning, and it is thought that this time sufficient opening has been left for the defense to bring in the complaint against the singer and the defendant, something which was denied at the first trial.

SHIPPERS COMPLAIN AGAINST RAILROADS.

OTTAWA, Ont., October 31.—Shippers have lodged a complaint with the railway commission in which it is claimed that the Great Trunk and the Canadian Pacific do not supply enough cars to move the wheat crop from Georgian bay ports to the seaboard. A traffic officer has been sent to investigate.

WIDOW IS FREED FROM BLAME

COURT HOLDS THAT MRS. THAYER DID NOT INFLUENCE HUSBAND.

In the matter of the contest of the will of the late Edward F. Thayer by the two daughters of decedent, Judge Waite has overruled the demurrer of Mrs. Thayer to complaint of contestants and has also ordered paragraph five of the latter's complaint stricken out. The eliminated paragraph accused Thayer's widow of having exercised undue influence to induce her husband to will all his property to her to the exclusion of his two daughters.

Contestants must now go to trial and rely on the main issue of their complaint: that Thayer was of unsound mind at the time his last will was executed.

By Judge Waite's ruling Mrs. Thayer, the widow of decedent and step-mother of contestants, is exonerated from the charge of having unduly influenced her husband against his two daughters by a former wife.

Thayer was for thirty years one of the most prominent saloonkeepers in Oakland.

PINE GROVE IS LAID LOW BY FIRE

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., October 31.—Fire that started in the Pine Grove Hotel at Pine Grove, in Putnam county, early today has wiped out the greater part of the town and the flames, which are still raging, threaten to complete their work by destroying every building still standing. The following buildings have been destroyed: Pine Grove Hotel, Commercial Hotel, Pine Grove Bank, Methodist Episcopal Church, Morgan business block, seven stores and ten dwelling houses.

Pine Grove has a population of less than 1000. There is practically no fire protection and the villagers are fighting the flames with buckets. Dynamite is being used to tear down structures in the path of the flames in the hope of stopping their progress. The loss so far is placed at $150,000. The fire started from a natural gas explosion.

THIRTY-SEVEN YEARS OF UNITED WORKMEN

Celebration, Honor of Anniversary, to Be Held in Reed Hall Next Thursday Evening

Next Thursday night there will be a grand gathering in Reed Hall at the corner of Harrison and Thirteenth streets in honor of the Thirty-seventh anniversary of the organization of the Ancient Order of United Workmen.

On that occasion, Past Supreme Master J. G. Tate, of the order, who is a resident of Denver, will deliver an oration in the interests of the society.

A committee composed of members of the various local lodges of which there are twenty in this county, is making arrangements for the occasion. Of this committee, J. J. O'Toole of Elmhurst, is chairman, and Dr. E. R. Tate of this city, secretary. The meeting of the United Workmen of San Francisco in honor of J. G. Tate's appearance here was attended by hundreds of members of the order and there is no doubt that there will be an excellent attendance of members of the craft at the forthcoming meeting here.

OBJECT OF ORDER.

In this connection, a sketch of the inception of the A. O. U. W. will be appreciated.

The order was formed in Meadville, Pa. on the 27th of October, 1881, in that town John Jordan Upchurch and thirteen others met in a room for the purpose of organizing a society for mutual protection in time of sickness and to provide a sum of money for the family in case of death.

Upchurch was a machinist and the time was shortly after the big railroad strikes that resulted in much suffering and distress. It was no uncommon occurrence to have the hat passed around on pay-day to provide means for the burial of some fellow worker in the shops who had been taken away by sickness or accident.

SELF HELP.

Those sturdy, honest mechanics knew nothing of the laws governing mortality or life-insurance, but they did know that there was room for an organization whereby a man could by co-operation, make provision for his family when he had been taken from them.

The result of the deliberations of Upchurch and his comrades was the formation of the Ancient Order of United Workmen, the cornerstone of fraternal life insurance. In America, which, today, number hundreds of orders with a membership of about 5,000,000, and which has disbursed for death benefits $600,000,000, of which $150,000,000 have been distributed through the agency of the A. O. U. W.

FIGURES INCOMPLETE.

These figures, enormous as they are, do not show all that has been done by the fraternal orders, for their members, as many millions have been paid in sick benefits and charity by individual lodges of which there is no account received.

About two years ago, there was a reorganization of the plan of assessments and a plan more scientific and equitable was adopted and, as there was quite an increase in the cost for those in the older ages, it was freely predicted that the organization would go under. But, while there was a big loss in the membership, it has resulted in making the order stronger than ever, and the membership is now over 300,000.

FIRST CALIFORNIA LODGE.

The first lodge on the Pacific coast was organized in West Oakland by the late Horace G. Pratt, and was followed in quick succession by one in Oakland proper, East Oakland and Alameda, and on November 15th, 1877, the Grand Lodge of California was organized with ten lodges and 2,000 members. Wm. H. Jordan, the well known attorney, then of Oakland, but now of San Francisco, was chosen as the first Grand Master with Horace Pratt as Grand Recorder.

Among other citizens of Alameda county who have been prominently identified with the A. O. U. W. might be mentioned D. S. Hirschberg, who held the position of grand recorder for several years; Dr. M. W. Fish, Chas. E. Snook and Dr. F. W. Browning, who were grand masters; Dr. J. L. Mayon, grand medical examiner for several years past; Chas. E. Dunton and W. J. Petersen, the present grand master and grand overseer respectively; E. W. Marston, past master and member of the grand lodge; and W. W. Morrison, member of the grand lodge committee on laws.

"Never put off till tomorrow," said Arthur, "the bill collector whom you see put off all his work."
